¶ DENNIS M'LOUGHLIN.

By the Captains Jarvis and Darracot, arrived at Boſton from London; and Captain Kerr, arrived here from Liverpool, we have the following Advices, viz.

VERSAILLES, May 16.

HIS Majeſty has juſt made a reform in his expences, and ſuppreſſ'd the Extraordinary, which will ſave ſome millions per annum.

Genoa, April 28. This republick has laid an embargo on all veſſels loaden with any ſort of grain, that arrive in this port.

Peterſbourg, April 17. It is very confidently ſaid, that a treaty of union between our court and that of Pruſſia is actually ſigned.

Florence, April 21. A report is juſt ſpread here, on the arrival of letters from Leghorn, that the malecontents on the iſland of Corſica have taken Baſtia.

Breſt, April 15. The marine of this Port is augmented ſince the peace with ſix men of war, and there is another which will be ready to launch by the 17th of next month. The Duke de Choiſeul is expected about that time, and great preparations are making for his reception. A quantity of timber arrives here daily; and the ſhip the city of Paris, which has been built at Rochfort, is expected here next week, as well as the four which have been built at Bourdeaux. There is another man of war of 90 guns on the ſtocks at Rochfort.

Toulon, April 16. The preſent ſtate of the marine in this port, is 19 men of war from 60 to 80 guns, beſides five fine new frigates, ſeven xebeques, and four ſhips of the line, which are not yet launched.

Paris, May 16. Our marine, it ſeems, is already reſtored to ſuch a point, as to occaſion jealouſy in the Engliſh. And it is not only our marine that becomes reſpectable; for our finances are increaſed in ſuch a manner, that there has not been ſo much money theſe 15 years in the king's coffers.

LONDON, May 1.

Saturday evening died, at his houſe in Bury-ſtreet, St. Mary-Axe, Benjamin Mendez da Coſta, Eſq; a Gentleman of the Jewiſh profeſſion; but whoſe practice, as it adorned human nature, would do honour to the pureſt religion. His love for mankind in general, was unbounded; which won him univerſal reverence and eſteem. Firmly perſuaded that riches are ſent, not to gratify the groveling views of pride, luxury, or avarice; his wealth was as a mighty reſervoir of water, whence iſſued a thouſand ſalutary ſtreams, to cheriſh, relieve and ſupport, weeping, diſtreſt virtue, of all perſuaſions, and of all denominations.

Beſides the 3000l. per annum given to charitable uſes by the late worthy Mr. Da Coſta, by a codicil to his will, he has ordered that all the bonds, ſecurities, &c. he had by him, ſhould be immediately on his death deſtroyed; and that the annuities he had given to diſtreſſed families ſhould be continued during the lives of the perſons to whom they were granted.

May 6. On Saturday laſt there was a meeting of the Commiſſioners of the Surry and Suſſex turnpike roads at Croydon, when their loſs by a late Treaſurer of the Godſtone diviſion was taken into conſideration. The Rev. Mr. Kidgell, the famous author of the Narrative of the Eſſay on Woman, had been Treaſurer, but has lately diſappeared, with a ballance in his hands of 200l. It appeared however, that he had given a bill of ſale to the Clerk of the roads; in conſequence of which, it is ſaid, the Commiſſioners will recover ten ſhillings in the pound. An innkeeper of Ryegate attended, and proved that he had bought of Mr. Kidgell ſome cyder, which not having received home, and being taken into the bill of ſale, the Commiſſioners ordered the amount of it to be given him.

On the ſudden Migration of thoſe celebrated Champions of Religion and Liberty, the Rev. Mr. K-------l, and J. W----kes, Eſq;

When Faction was loud, and when Parties ran high,
Religion and Liberty join'd in the Cry;
But O Grief of Griefs! in the midſt of the Fray,
Religion and Liberty both ran away.

May 15. We hear that a Grant is making out to Denny Roile, Eſq; Member of Parliament for Barnſtaple, of a tract of land of many thouſand acres, near St. Mark's, in Eaſt Florida; and that he is preparing to embark in a few days, with ſome gentlemen, artificers, and families from Briſtol. Many young men and women are going in the ſhips from thence, and ſeveral families propoſe to go over from the ports of Barnſtaple and Bideford, in the autumn, ſufficient, it is ſuppoſed, to ſettle the whole Grant in a ſhort time. As ſoon as the ſettlers arrive, and are provided for, that gentleman intends to return at the meeting of the Parliament.

Cochineal, ſilk, and cotton, are the produce of that country, and will be a very profitable eaſy employment for the women and children; as indigo, rice, and other valuable commodities, will be raiſed by the greater ſtrength of the men.

May 16. A perſon has lately arrived in town from Quebec, who, among other commiſſions, we are informed, has orders to engage ſome ſkilful miners, for the iron mines near Trois Rivieres, in Canada, ſeveral gentlemen having already formed themſelves into a company, with a view to carry on that valuable manufacture to the beſt advantage.

May 17. Yeſterday the Right Hon. the Lord High Chancellor kiſs'd his Majeſty's hand on being created Earl of Northington, Viſcount Henley, and Baron of Grange in Hampſhire.

Green Peas were on Thurſday ſold for a guinea and an half a quart.

We hear that four guineas were given on Thurſday ſe'nnight for a quart of peas, for the uſe of his Excellency the Spaniſh Ambaſſador, who that day gave an elegant entertainment to the foreign Miniſters, and many of the Nobility and Gentry.

Mr. Wilkes's eſtate in Buckinghamſhire is to be ſold the beginning of June next, by order of the Truſtees.

The Society for the Encouragement of Arts, &c. on Wedneſday evening laſt, ordered a bounty of ten guineas to Mr. Carter, for a ſpecimen of Borax, manufactured in this kingdom.

May 19. Some gentlemen, eminent for their ſkill in the profeſſion of engineering, are now preparing to embark for the Grenadoes. They are to take an accurate ſurvey of all our late acquired iſlands in the Weſt-Indies, with the moſt convenient places to erect fortifications, which are with all expedition to be put in a proper ſtate of defence.

Lord Clive gives Capt. Mills, of the Kent, a Thouſand Pounds for his paſſage to Bengal.

A great quantity of artillery is now preparing, in order to be ſent to the iſlands of Tobago, &c. together with ſome engineers, to direct the building of the fortifications.

May 24. Yeſterday at half paſt twelve came on before Lord Mansfield, and the other two Judges of the Court of King's Bench, at Weſtminſter-hall, the trial of Philip Carteret Webb, Eſq; Member of Parliament for Haſlemere in Surry, Solicitor to to the Treaſury, and Fellow of the Royal Society, for Perjury, which continued till ſeven o'clock in the evening, when the Jury, which was a ſpecial one, after an abſence of half an hour, brought in their verdict, Not Guilty.----It was with no little difficulty that a Jury could be impannelled to try this important cauſe, ſome of the Gentlemen who had been ſummoned neglecting to attend, notwithſtanding the preſſing neceſſity for their appearance.---One of them, however, was fined 30l. for his remiſſneſs, which it is hoped will have a ſalutary effect upon every future occaſion.

We are credibly informed, that a penſion of 1500l per annum for life is granted to the Right Hon. Lord Sandys.

The State of the National Debt, as it ſtood on the 5th Day of January laſt, being Chriſtmas Day O. S. amounts to 129,586, 789l. 10s. 1 half-penny, and the annual Intereſt, or other Charges payable for the ſame, amount to 4,688,177l. 11s.

The Society for encouragement of Arts, &c. laſt night reſolved to offer a premium of one hundred pounds for a ſecret to tan ſheep and other ſkins without bark.

The ſame Society has lately received a valuable treatiſe from Italy, (in conſequence of a propoſed premium) pointing out a very ſalutary invention to empty water out of ſhips.

Notwithſtanding the Iſland of Grenada was ſuppoſed by many, at the Concluſion of the Peace, to be barren, and of little Value, 9397 Cwt. of Sugar, and 774 Cwt. of Coffee, have been imported into this port from thence within three Months laſt paſt.

Extract of a Letter from the Grenadoes.

"The trade of this place is more conſiderable than could be expected in an infant ſettlement. Great numbers of Engliſh daily arrive here, both from Europe and America; proviſions are very plenty, by reaſon of the ſhips reſorting here from Virginia and New-England with bread, flour, peas, pork, butter, cheeſe, and hams; a houſe is knocked up preſently, all the neceſſary materials of beams, boards, rafters, joints ready framed, being imported from North-America; which, with the great number of French ſettled here as ſubjects, render this place by far more conſiderable, for commerce, than any other of the new ceded Carribbee iſlands."

Letters from Copenhagen of the 11th inſt. import, that a terrible fire happened the 1ſt inſt. at Frederickſhall (a fortreſs remarkable for the death of King Charles the XIIth of Sweden, who was killed there at the ſiege in the year 1718) which burnt ſo very furious, that the whole town was reduced to aſhes, except the magazines.

The whole town of Freyſtadt, except five houſes, in the principality of Glogau, in Sileſia, was burnt down the 6th inſt. together with the ſuburb of Glogau, ſome exterior works, and about 30 houſes in the adjoining villages of Neider-Siegerſdorff. The wind blew with great violence, and the flames ſpread ſo faſt, that the poor inhabitants had not time to ſave any thing.

Yeſterday a large quantity of ſmall arms were ſhipped on board the fleet going to the different ſettlements on the coaſt of North-America.

May 25. It is reported that an aditional number of forces will be ſent to all our American Colonies.

Yeſterday there was a great Council at St. James's on affairs of importance, at which the Lord Chancellor, the two Secretaries of State, the Hon. Mr. Grenville, and ſeveral other Lords of the Council, aſſiſted.

We are informed, that Mr. Churchill has ſketched out the plan of an Epic Poem, which he intends as the ſtandard of his reputation, and that the title of this piece is to be Culloden. At preſent he is buſy on a ſatire which he ſtiles Perjury; but whether it has or has not a reference to any late tranſactions, is not our buſineſs to determine.

Letters from Hanover of the 13th inſt. mention, that as a farmer's man was ſelling ſome trees he had felled, in one of them, which was hollow, was found the dead body of a Frenchman, with 41 Louis d'ors in his pocket. He is ſuppoſed to have hid himſelf when the French were driven out of that electorate.

May 26. According to the laſt letters from Paris, they ſtill flattered themſelves that the King would hold a Bed of Juſtice in a few days, wherein it was expected that His Majeſty would aboliſh the laſt Twentieth penny eſtabliſhed during the late war, and alſo reduce the entries of that capital, as well as ſome other impoſts, for the eaſe and relief of his ſubjects.

It was ſaid at Verſailles, when the laſt letters came away, that the court was going to borrow eighty millions of livres on life annuities.

They write from Breſt, that the Court of France have lately ordered the number of ſeamen on the marine liſt, to be augmented with 15,000 men.

It is rumoured, that enquiry has been made at a publick office, to know in what time they could victual out 10,000 men, in caſe of emergency.

In conſequence of the prudent meaſures now taking, the ſtate of the Britiſh navy is in a way of being vaſtly ſuperior to what has ever been experienced in former years. Excluſive of a thorough ſurvey of all his Majeſty's ſhips of war, contracts have been entered into with every province, iſland, and ſettlement in America; where men of war may be ſupplied with proviſions, rigging and all manner of naval ſtores, on any emergency; the ſame contract is alſo in force in moſt foreign ſtates in Europe, ſo that let a King's ſhip put in any where, ſhe is ſure of being ſupplied.

Portſmouth, May 22. Sailed the Guernſey and Solebay men of War for Newfoundland; the St. George, Mallard, from London for New-England, having ſprung a leak, is put back here.

The Lords of the Admiralty, who are making the tour of all the Yards belonging to his Majeſty, went on Tueſday laſt to Woolwich, where Lord Egmont, accompanied with three other Lords of that Board, together with their Secretaries, took a view of moſt of the ſhips that are building and in ordinary there, muſtering the ſeveral artificers and ſhips companies as they went;-----enquiring into the nature and preſent ſtate of all the ſtores;-----condition of the ſeveral ſhips of war;-----neceſſary repairs, &c. and whatever elſe their Lordſhips were pleaſed to think worthy their notice, was ordered to be minuted forthwith. Their Lordſhips returned to town in the evening, and were expected to view Deptford, and the other Yards.----As nothing can be more pleaſing to the enemies of Great-Britain, than to hear that her ſhips are ſuffered to rot in her harbours, and her naval affairs totally neglected; ſo can there be no ſounds more grateful and harmonious in the ears of all the true friends thereof, than thoſe that reſult from accounts of ſo really intereſting and political a concern as the above, to wit, a timely attention to what conſtitutes the great bulwark of the nation, the nerves of the ſtate, ſo much recommended and taken notice of in his Majeſty's late moſt gracious ſpeech from the throne.

An additional number of hands are ordered to Sheerneſs, to be employed in that Yard for fitting out ſeveral ſhips there for Channel ſervice.

Orders are given for ſeveral armed ſloops and cutters to ſail for the coaſt of Scotland, for the protection of trade, and the prevention of ſmuggling.

St. James's, May 19. The King has been pleaſed to conſtitute and appoint William Young, Alexander Græme, John Hunt, Robert Stewart, and Robert Wynn, Eſquires, commiſſioners for the ſale of lands in the iſlands of Grenada, the Grenadines, Dominico, St. Vincent, and Tobago.

By the LORD HYDE Packet-Boat, Captain GODDARD, arrived at New-York from Falmouth, we have the following Advices.

CADIZ, May 4.

THE extreme drought we have had in this country, ever ſince the commencement of the year, joined to the ſcarcity and high price for corn, has cauſed a great number of inhabitants in the country to quit their habitations, and ſeek relief in this city. Theſe Strangers are ſo very numerous, that the governor has thought it neceſſary to publiſh an ordinance, by which they are all enjoined to leave the city in 24 hours, on pain of being taken up, and obliged to work in the king's arſenals. Yeſterday public prayers were offered up to implore rain. The mortality among the poultry continues to rage here.

May 11. They write from Parma, that on the 14th ult. the Duke of York took the diverſion of deer-hunting in Colorno-park; and at his return he went to the opera, which was followed by a grand ſupper at the palace. On the 16th a concert was performed by the muſicians of the houſhold; after which the whole court paſſed into a magnificent hall, where was ſerved an ambigu on a table of 60 covers, which only the Infant, the Duke, and the ladies, ſat down to. In the evening there was a maſquerade ball at the theatre.

Berlin, May 10. All that has hitherto tranſpired concerning the ſtipulations of the treaty ſigned the 13th of April, between Ruſſia and Pruſſia, imports, 1ſt a definitive alliance, and formal guaranty of all the poſſeſſions of the two ſovereigns. 2. A reciprocal promiſe, in caſe of war, to aſſiſt each other with 15000 foot, and 5000 horſe; excepting the wars which Pruſſia may have in Weſtphalia, and that Ruſſia may have with the Turks; in either of which caſes, the ſtipulated ſuccour is to be in money. 3. As to what regards the preſent ſtate of Poland, the two ſovereigns jointly engage to purſue the ſame meaſures and principles they agreed upon in a former convention.

Warſaw, May 12. No ſitting has been held ſince the 7th. Every thing is in ſuſpence, and this is perhaps the beſt ſituation in which Poland can be in the preſent circumſtances.

Hague, May 26. Our politicians here are wholly at a loſs to account, why, in the midſt of a profound peace, the naval armaments, both of France and England, ſhould be carried on with ſuch uncommon vigour. They think they ſee in the extraordinary activity exerted by both ſides on this occaſion, ſomething more than the bare reſtoration of their marine, or even the prudent precautions uſually taken in times of tranquility not to be unprepared for another war, by ſuffering the national ſtrength to decay. They never remember ſo much vigilance diſplayed by the great officers at the head of theſe departments before. The Duke de Choiſeul's ſecond viſit to all the ſea-ports of France alarms them. The many new ſhips of war already built, with the orders iſſued out for conſtruction of more; the reparation of their fortreſſes, the reviews in the plains of Sablons, the great attention paid to their finances, the demand juſt made from Sweden, for her ſtipulated ſubſidy of a thouſand men, the military preparations making in the principal ports belonging to the other branches of the united Houſe of Bourbon, are by ſeveral conſidered as many indications of a rankling jealouſy, which may ſhortly break forth into an open and extenſive war. The report of a miſunderſtanding, and the preſent critical ſtate of the affairs of Poland, in their opinions, confirm theſe conjectures, and may ſoon blow up the kindling embers into a violent flame.

LONDON.

May 25. By an eſtimate lately made it appears, that the produce of the revenue of his Majeſty's cuſtoms has increaſed at the rate of upwards of a million per annum ſince the peace.

June 2. The great Manilla prize, left 50 Leagues to the Weſtward by the Lenox and Grafton men of war, arrived at Portſmouth, is larger than any of our men of war; ſhe draws 34 feet water.

Letters from Vienna, of the 14th ult. adviſe, that it was currently reported there, that the Prince de Lichtenſtein was ſoon to ſet out from thence to execute a commiſſion of great importance at the Court of Great-Britain.

It is now confidently reported, that the Hon. Mr. Yorke, lately Attorney General, will ſoon be appointed Chancellor; and that his brother at the Hague will be made Secretary of State.

June 5. Advices from Vienna, of the 14th ult. ſay, that it was currently reported there, that the Turks had given full aſſurances, that the military preparations on the frontiers were not aimed at the Houſe of Auſtria, but againſt the Ruſſians, in caſe the leaſt partiality was ſhewn by them to any of the competitors, by interfering with the election of the king of Poland.

On Saturday the Chace, Smith, ſailed from Cowes, with palatine paſſengers, who are going to ſettle in Pennſylvania.

This week ſeveral workmen, in the houſe-building branch, were engaged for the new ſettlements: They are to embark on board the Grampus for Penſacola, which ſhip ſails in about ten days.

Extract of a letter from Portſmouth, June 4.

"Lord Clive (with a large retinue) arrived here between 10 and 11 laſt night, embarked on board the Kent, for Bengal, this afternoon, at one o'clock, and ſailed at four, with a very fair wind."

A letter from France mentions, that ſhould the deſign of ſending Troops to Corſica be perſiſted in, it will not fail to give umbrage to more powers than one, no leſs than three foreign Miniſters having of late expreſſed very freely their diſapprobation of ſuch a meaſure.

As an inſtance how induſtriouſly the French carry on their fiſhery, a correſpondent from Bourdeaux writes, that ſince the firſt of March laſt 19 ſail, full loaded, have arrived in that port from Newfoundland, all belonging to merchants of that place; and they have had equal ſucceſs at Rochelle and Havre.

The Right Hon. the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty have been pleaſed to appoint William Spry, L L D. and one of the Advocates at Doctors Commons, to be Judge of the Court of Vice Admiralty over all America.

June 6. It is reported that a ſquadron of ſhips of war, with an Admiral, will ſpeadily be ſent to the Eaſt-Indies, to relieve thoſe already there.

A printing preſs, and all neceſſary materials, are now getting ready to be ſhipped for Penſacola.

June 7. Yeſterday morning the ſucceſs, Peterſon, from Virginia, arrived off Dover.

They write from Toulon, of the 17th ult. that they were fitting out, with great expedition, the Herondelle ſhip of war, two frigates, and three xebecks, ſuppoſed to be againſt the Salatines.

The Reverend Mr. Entick's trial with the Meſſengers is put off until the Sittings after next Term, occaſioned by the Defendants moving the Court on Monday laſt to amend their plea, which was granted.

June 9. Yeſterday a great quantity of ammunition and warlike ſtores were ſhipped at the tower wharff for Penſacola, as was alſo a large quantity of houſhold furniture of all ſorts, for the Uſe of the new ſettlers going thither.

Letters from Leghorn, by the Wedneſday's Flanders mail, bring advice, that 18 ſhips were arrived there in 10 days with grain, which had reduced the price greatly, and would occaſion conſiderable loſſes by its fall to the merchants.

They write from Peterſburgh, that her Imperial Majeſty had ratified the treaty of union and commerce concluded between Ruſſia and Pruſſia, and that Copies thereof were to be immediately ſent to all the foreign Courts.

By the extraordinary preparations now making on board the two frigates fitting out at Deptford for ſea, each of whom is to carry ten anchors, beſides a number of iron chains and cables, ſeveral copper ovens, a large quantity of flour, and tents, with ſeveral watches of a new conſtruction; it is thought they are going to make ſome obſervations for determining the longitude. It ſeems they are intended for a long voyage, being both ſheathed with copper.

The Hon. Col. Tryan is appointed Lieut. Governor of North-Carolina, and will ſoon embark for that place.

BOSTON, July 19.

Dr. Richard Terrick, Biſhop of Peterborough, not Dr. Warburton, is tranſlated to the See of London----Dr. Lamb, Dean of Peterborough, is nominated Biſhop of Peterborough.----Dr. Tarrant, Dean of Carliſle, is appointed Dean of Peterborough. ---Dr. Bourn (Author of the Complete Juſtice of Peace and Eccleſiaſtical Law) is to ſucceed to the Deanry of Carliſle.

There are now in the Harbour of Boſton, the following Veſſels in his Majeſty's Service, for the Protection of Trade, viz. The Fortune, of 14 Guns, Capt. Biſhop. The Cygnet, of 18 Guns, Capt. Leſlie. The Jamaica, of 14 Guns, Capt. Burden. The Magdalane, of 8 Guns, Capt. Dougdale.

We hear that ſix other Frigates are ordered for America, beſides thoſe which are already here, and were ſoon to ſail from England for Halifax, to join Lord Colville.

NEW-LONDON, July 20.

By a Veſſel from Antigua, we hear that Admiral Tyrrel, was gone from thence to the French by the late Treaty, to facilitate the departure of the Engliſh Merchants from ſaid Iſland.

Twelve Men of War, beſides Admiral Tyrrel, were at Antigua about 30 Days ago.

The Account of an Engliſh Man of War's going into Turk's Iſlands, demoliſhing the Fortifications which the French had erected there, and killing 28 of them, as lately publiſhed, is, we hear, premature.

NEWPORT, July 23.

One Day laſt Week, a Shark of a very large Size, was taken by a Number of Whalemen, up the River, who went off from Mr. Bower's Ship-Yard. It is ſaid to be 45 Feet in Length, and that the Liver of it will make 10 Barrels of Oil.

NEW-YORK, July 30.

On Tueſday laſt, in the Ship John, from Newry, Luke Kierſted, Maſter, there arrived about 300 Paſſengers; the Rev. Doctor Clark, and 140 of which, on Saturday laſt embarked, with their Stores, farming and manufacturing Utenſils, in two Sloops, for Albany; from whence they are to proceed to the Lands near Lake George, which were lately ſurveyed for their Accommodation. As their principal View is to carry on the Linen and Hempen Manufactures, to which they are all well bred, doubtleſs they will meet with the good Graces of every true Friend to this Province, eſpecially at this Juncture, when their Encouragement is ſo abſolutely neceſſary; and it is ſaid there are many others who will ſoon follow their laudable Example.

PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 2.

GENTLEMEN,

THE ingenious Piece in your Gazette of the 19th ult. upon the excellent Subject of Charity, may ſerve me as ſome Excuſe for the following Remarks; for as an Attempt to ward off an Evil, may as well be uſeful as the Intention of relieving it when it happens, I hope my preſent Endeavour to ſerve the Public, may not be unſuitable or improper.

The Fact you mentioned in your Paper, No. 1855, reſpecting the fatal Effects of drinking cold Water, being as true as it is melancholy, you are requeſted to publiſh a further Preventative to the bad Conſequences enſuing on this imprudent Action, when the Blood is heated.

I am well informed, that if a Perſon (tho' hot with Exerciſe) will be careful, before he drinks Water, to wet the fore Part of his Wriſts, by ſprinkling or pouring ſome on them, that no Danger will accrue from drinking it in a moderate Manner. I do not (by any Means) intend this to leſſen the Propriety of your Preſcription; but as Rum or Spirit is not always in the Poſſeſſion of every One, the above may be very uſeful where there is a Want of that Article.

Since I heard of this Method, I have made further Enquiry reſpecting it, and am confirmed in the Opinion, by the Experience of a labouring Man, who has worked very hard thro' all the late hot Weather, who ſays he has practiced this, and has not (as he knows of) received any Injury from what has evidently been the Inſtrument of Death to others. He further ſays, that wetting the Wriſts, or rubbing them with cold Water, is an exceeding good Means to prevent the Ague, and has been experienced to be of conſiderable Service in that Reſpect by Perſons living in unwholſome Situations.

With regard to Reaſons for what is above alledged, I leave them to Perſons of better Judgment; only deſiring that theſe Hints may be of ſome Service; and am (with Reſpect) your Friend, and conſtant Reader, A CITIZEN.

Saturday laſt, about Three in the Afternoon, departed this Life, after a tedious Illneſs, the Rev. Mr. GILBERT TENNENT, Paſtor of the ſecond Preſbyterian Congregation in this City, and was, with great Solemnity, interred in the ſecond Preſbyterian Church on Sunday in the Evening. The Funeral was attended by all the Proteſtant Clergy of every Denomination in the Town, a Number from the Country, and many other Gentlemen, beſides the whole Congregation, who manifeſted the moſt tender and affectionate Reſpect to his Memory. He was confeſſedly a Gentleman of great Integrity,---a ſincere Chriſtian, of exemplary Converſation, unaffectedly devout and ſerious, but pleaſant and chearful with his Friends;---a well-ſtudied Divine;---of generous and Catholic Sentiments;---a judicious, zealous, pungent and eminently ſucceſsful Preacher;---a Lover of all good Men, of whatever Denomination;---of a noble and public Spirit, who made it the delightful Buſineſs of his Life to ſerve GOD, and to do Good to Mankind; and, as might be expected, died triumphant, in the aſſured Expectation of eternal Glory.

The Brig Ann, Captain Aitken, is arrived in London; and the Snow Delaware, Captain Blyth, at Briſtol; both from this Port.

By the Packet there is Advice, that the Philadelphia Packet, Captain Budden, had fallen down from London for this Place.

 The Extract from an Engliſh Author we have received, and will publiſh it.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

To the Publiſhers of the PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

GENTLEMEN,

THE inſerting the following Extract from an Engliſh Author, in your next Paper, will greatly oblige

A WELL-WISHER to AMERICA.

IT is evident to a Demonſtration, that in theſe Colonies (treating of North-America) it is in the Power of Great-Britain to raiſe Silk, Hemp, Flax, Pitch, Tar, Wine, Oil, Raiſins, and other Fruits, and that the Sugar and Tobacco Colonies and Fiſheries, ſhe already has in that Part of the World, being in an inconceivable Treaſure: But it is as evident, theſe Articles are not conſidered with that Attention their Importance ſeems to demand. Every One, who has any Calculation of the national Expences of Great-Britain, knows that ſhe lays out annually with Foreigners Four Millions of Money and upwards, in Silks, Linen, Lace, Wine, Naval Stores, and other Merchandize, which ſhe might make herſelf, if her Colonies were encouraged to raiſe Materials; and it is computed that thoſe Materials would employ Half a Million of People at home, who are now a Burden to their Country. It ſhould alſo be conſidered, that the Riches of the Britiſh Plantations are the Riches of Great-Britain; their Forces her Forces; and their Shipping her Shipping; as theſe proſper, ſo will their Mother Country proſper of Courſe; for hither all their Wealth flows in the End.

The Coloniſts either bring their Eſtates over to England, if they meet with Succeſs, or they live in an elegant Manner there, and import the Britiſh Manufactures. Great-Britain would need ſcarce any other foreign Trade, therefore would want nothing that other Countries produce, if the Plantations were fully encouraged; for the Materials they might raiſe, would abundantly employ all the idle Hands in Great-Britain, and furniſh them with every Thing that contributes to the Support or Conveniences of Life. Can Great-Britain then do too much for her Colonies; when, in ſupporting them, ſhe moſt effectually ſerves herſelf? Therefore Great-Britain has no Reaſon to be afraid of leſſening the Revenue, by prohibiting foreign Manufactures, if it tends to enrich the Nation; for the richer the People are, the better able will they be to ſupport the Government.

But the Legiſlature ſhould be cautious of laying high Duties on their own Produce and Manufactures, whether at home, or in their Colonies; for this has totally deſtroyed ſome Branches of their Trade, and prevents others from flouriſhing: By this the People of Jamaica were intirely beat out of the Cocoa or Chocolate Trade; other Nations being able to afford it cheaper than they could, on account of the Duties. By the like Conduct, it is apprehended, the Sugar and Tobacco Trades may be loſt, the Duties on which are ſo conſiderable a Branch of the Revenue. But is it not better to take a ſmall Duty, than to loſe all the Duties and the Trade together? And in Great-Britain, is it not the Duty on Paper made there, that damps the Progreſs of the Manufacture, and ſtill obliges the Merchants to import moſt of their Paper from abroad? Indeed Great-Britain may ruin all her Trade, and all her Manufactures, by high Duties; and when this is done, how is the Government to be ſupported? How can Money be found to purchaſe even Neceſſaries of Foreigners? And how are thoſe Multitudes of Poor to be maintained, that a Failure in their Manufactures, and Plantation Trade, muſt occaſion? But next to high Duties, nothing ſurely can be a greater Diſadvantage to the Britiſh Manufactures, or Plantation Trade, than the locking up Money in theſe Banks and Funds; which, till theſe were eſtabliſhed, were employed in Commerce.

From this Recapitulation it may be underſtood, that theſe Colonies can be very beneficially employed both for Great-Britain and themſelves, without interfering with any of the Staple Commodities of England; which has been one of the principal Objections againſt the Colony of New-England, where the Inhabitants have been diſcouraged from raiſing Naval Stores, and have ſet up ſeveral Manufactures, which muſt neceſſarily interfere with thoſe of Great-Britain: Therefore it is highly requiſite to encourage a Trade with theſe Plantations, in all ſuch Articles as ſhall make for the mutual Benefit of the Mother Country and her Colonies; for a mutual Benefit is a mutual Dependance: From whence it follows, that the Culture of Coffee, Cocoa, Cochineal, Indigo, and Piemento, ought eſpecially to be encouraged in the mountainous Inland Part of Jamaica; as alſo the Manufacture of Bar Iron, and raiſing of Hemp, Flax, Indigo, and raw Silk, in the Countries between and beyond the Mountains, on the Back of Georgia, Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, and Pennſylvania, and the other Northern Provinces; for the great Complaint againſt the Trade to ſome of theſe Colonies long has been, that it is inferior to the mercantile Profits to be reaped from the Navigation of the Baltic; which is more advantageous to the Merchant, tho' very detrimental to his Country. If reaſonably encouraged, the Colonies are now in a Condition to furniſh Great-Britain with Naval Stores, Oil, Roſin, Copper-ore, and with Pig and Bar Iron *, as much as it can demand; by which Means the Ballance of Trade to Ruſſia, Sweden, and Norway, may be conſiderably reduced in Favour of Great-Britain, and greatly to the Advantage of her Colonies.

* Since this Author wrote, ſundry Acts of Parliament have been made to encourage the Plantations; particularly, in the Articles of Pitch and Tar, Pig and Bar Iron; and lately in that of Hemp, by a large Bounty granted, and to continue many Years.

FLORENCE, April 24.

LETTERS from Rome mention the Duke of York's arrival at that place, and that all possible attentions were paid him by order of the Pope. The Grand Prior Corsini, and the brother of Prince Borghese, who have been in England, attend upon his Royal Highness very assiduously. The want of Corn is very great in that city, as well as in all the country about.

Poland, April 28. The nearer the time of the diet of convocation approaches, the greater the fermentation seems in this country. We should not even be surprised to see the opening of the assembly put off, and to hear of the convening of the Arrier-Ban. In the mean time, the Russian troops are drawing nearer to Warsaw, and form a kind of circle round that capital. Their Generals, however, constantly declare, that it is all done for the good of the Republick, and with the sole view of maintaining the freedom of election. It is said, that the Ottoman Porte has declared to our Ministry, that it looks upon a Prince of the House of Saxony as a Piaste, and having consequently as much right to the crown as any natural-born subject of the Republick.

Warsaw, April 28. The Prince Primate, and the Grand Marshal of the Crown, have received a courier from Constantinople, charged with a dispatch from the Grand Vizier, whereby this Prime Minister of the Porte more amply explains the intentions of his master, the Grand Signior, about the approaching election of a King of Poland. The contents of that dispatch are as follow.

"The kingdom of Poland has been for time immemorial acknowledged by all the Courts of Europe, as a free and independent Republick, who has consequently the right of electing a Chief of the nation, without other Powers meddling therein. Grounded on this principle, his Majesty, the most mighty and most illustrious Emperor of the Othmans, &c. wills and desires, through an effect of his natural magnanimity and exalted sentiments, that in the present circumstances the election of a King of Poland be made agreeably to the antient constitutions, laws, and usages of the country, with the exercise of that previous liberty which belongs to the Republick, insomuch that neither the Sublime Porte, nor other Powers, may any way interfere in this affair; and therefore that the Polish nation do come to a resolution to make choice of a King from amongst themselves, and set him on the throne. Such are the high intentions of his Highness, which I declare and manifest to you our antient friends and principal members of the Republick. And being willing that the Ambassador of France, the Envoy of Prussia, and the Resident of Russia, actual Ministers at the Sublime Porte, should be informed thereof, we have imparted these intentions to them, in the sense they are expressed above, not only by a written declaration, which has been delivered to them by a messenger, but also verbally. In the mean time, the Supreme Head of the Othman Empire doubts not, but that the said Ministers will communicate to their respective Courts, the esteem which his Highness has for the Republick, and his concern in maintaining the liberties of the nation. He wishes moreover, that the Grand Marshal of the Crown be informed of the contents of this letter, and that he would impart the same to the grandees of Poland, to the end that the election may not be influenced by the intervention of any Potentate. In these points consist the real desires and zeal of his Highness, on which I was to explain myself."

Genoa, May 5. There arrived here within these few days from Bastia, a Genoese pink, which gives the following account of the situation of affairs in that Island: That the Rebels having retired from the Pieve de Brando, about two leagues from Bastia, Lieutenant-Colonel Matra marched thither with a considerable detachment, and took possession of the Castle of Brando, and put to death an officer and twelve private men, all Corsicans, who had surrendered at discretion. Pasca Paoli, who was informed of this barbarity, inflicted the same punishment upon a Genoese officer, and a like number of private men, who were made prisoners at Erbalonga.

The report which was spread, that our troops had retaken Erbalonga is without foundation; on the contrary the rebels have fortified themselves there, and have established four pieces of cannon.

Genoa, May 12. A dispatch is just arrived from Bastia, and brings advice, that the malecontents had been repulsed with loss in three attacks they made on a fort called Brando.

Dantzick, May 16. Poland is now divided into three parties, and there is great reason to fear the election of a new King will not pass without bloodshed. The three parties are, that of the Grand General of the Crown, that of Count Poniatowsky, and that of the Neuters. The first may be called the party of Saxony, which is very powerful, having at its head a man of great abilities, who will probably be supported by the Crown troops; and he talks of holding another Diet, in opposition to that which has been sitting since the 7th of this month at Warsaw. As to the second party, Count Poniatowsky's, he has the Russians on his side, and all the interest of the Czartorinsky family. The third, called Neuters, do not make so much noise at present as the two others; but, according to appearance, that party will have its day, and sooner or later the balance may turn on which side they take, when they see a proper moment.

P. S. We just now hear, that the Great General of the Crown has assembled the greatest part of the national army at Kaenise, and that he is well supplied with arms and artillery. The Russians keep their position round Warsaw, and are entrenching, to secure themselves against a surprise.

Bologna, May 9. Letters from Genoa say, that the Senate of that city hath agreed to the conditions of France for sending a body of French troops to Corsica. And we hear from Antibes, a seaport in Provence, that twenty battalions are assembling there, which are intended for that island.

Warsaw, May 10. The Senators, to the number of 22, drew up and signed the 7th inst. a Manifesto against the Dyet, the principal articles of which are as follow:

1. The Dyet cannot be held in presence of the foreign troops that surround the city.

2. The Senators did not engage the Russians to come; they gave no thanks for their being sent, and have not any way given occasion for their arrival.

3. The Russians have committed an act of violence in Lithuania, by favouring a pernicious confederacy made for disturbing the publick tranquility.

4. It is against all Justice, that in the Memorial of the Russian Ministers, delivered to the Primate the 4th inst. the troops of the Crown are accused of having meddled in the Dyetines, and other publick Acts.

5. It is by the unjust proceedings of the same foreign troops, that the General Dyetine of Prussia has proved abortive; and this is another motive for protesting against this Dyet.

6. All good patriots, who love justice, are invited to unite for the support of Liberty.

At the end of this Manifesto there is an adhesion to the Protests of the Senators, signed by 45 Nuncios.

Warsaw, May 22. The Count de Branicki, Great General of the Crown, and Castellan of Cracow (but divested of the former post by the Diet of Warsaw) received on the 5th inst. by the hands of M. Benoit, the Prussian Minister, the following letter from the King of Prussia, in answer to one which that Nobleman, conjointly with some others, had wrote to his Majesty.

Great General! Sir,

"By the Letter addressed to me the 23 h of this month, signed by you, and by some Bishops, Senators and Waywodes of Poland, I have seen the untimely uneasiness which the present situation of affairs in that kingdom seems to give you. I am sensible of the confidence you place in me on this occasion. My prayers for the maintenance of the liberties, constitution, and repose of the Republick, are known to you, and they ought to be a sure guarantee of my way of thinking in the present circumstances, I know that that of the Empress of Russia is entirely conformable to mine; and the assurances which that Princess has given me, leave me in no doubt of the part which she takes in the preservation of the rights and privileges of the Polish nation.

"I have therefore room to believe, and I am even assured, that the Republick has nothing to fear for its liberty and constitutions, and that all those who have conceived any disquiet, may remove their fears, provided they take not the present occasion to oppress their countrymen, and if they do not themselves give rise to troubles which they seem to want to prevent. On this principle, I could have wished that you had followed the counsel of those amongst you who profess the most moderation; and as that course is certainly the wisest, and most conformable to the publick welfare, I think I cannot give you a better proof of the sincerity of my sentiments, as well in regard to yourself as to the Republick, than in recommending to you the same prudence and the same moderation.

"As to the rest, I cannot dissemble that I saw with some surprize, that the letter you wrote to me was dated from the palace of the Primate, since I know, beyond the possibility of a doubt, that that worthy chief of the Republick has been very far from taking part in the step that you have made, which without his participation cannot be considered but as contrary to the constitutions of the Republick, and which would engage me not to entertain a favourable opinion of your motive on this occasion, if the sentiments, which as I know are peculiar to you, did not oblige me to render you more justice. Whereupon I pray God to have you in his holy keeping.

At Berlin the 28th of April, 1764. (Signed) FREDERICK."

The Prussian Minister at Warsaw has also delivered to the Marshal of the Diet there, a Letter from his Prussian Majesty, in answer to one wrote to him the 20th of April. In this answer, dated at Berlin the 4th of May, and addressed to the Bishops, Castellans, and Senators of the kingdom of Poland, and of the Grand Dutchy of Lithuania, that monarch assures them, "That he has beheld with infinite satisfaction, their sage and prudent conduct, in not acceding to the too precipitate steps of some of their countrymen; and doubts not, that by persisting in those principles of moderation, they will preserve the publick peace and tranquility, the maintenance of which he has always at heart."

Confines of Poland, May 17. The Envoy of the Khan of the Tartars has assured the Grand General, that his Master keeps an army of an hundred thousand men in readiness to maintain, if needful, the Liberty of the Polish nation. The Grand Vizier, as we are assured, has again signified to the Prince Primate, that the Grand Signior would grant very powerful succours to the Republick, for the support of her liberties and constitutions.

LONDON, May 15.

Several of the Polish Nobility are so exasperated against the Russians, and think the Republick in so much danger from their troops, that they have petitioned the Primate to raise the Arrier Ban in their defence.

Our advices from Warsaw say, that to see the multitude and variety of uniforms which pass through the streets of that city, one would pronounce it to be a neutral place, surrounded by two armies of 100,000 men each.

May 17. They write from Venice of the 7th ult. that a peace was concluded between that Republick and the States of Algiers, Tunis, and Tripoly; the ratification of which was soon expected.

Some private letters from Poland advise, that a considerable part of the Grandees, at the head of which was the Prince-Primate, had declared for Prince Charles of Saxony, Duke of Courland and Semigallia; who, if he should obtain the throne, will thereby become the Lord Paramount of Courland, of which he has been forcibly deprived by the Duke de Biren.

The Prince Primate of Poland has declared, that he cannot give his consent to the assembling of the Arrier-Ban, without first having that of all the States of the Republick.

They write from Berlin, that the Turkish Ambassador, Achmet Effendi, went from thence in a carriage with six horses, attended with 28 covered waggons with his baggage; the King of Prussia sent by him a very curious gun, and pair of pistols, set with precious stones, and mounted with massive gold of great value, for the Grand Signior.

Letters from Cadiz of the 20th ult. mention, that by letters from Gibraltar they had advice, by a vessel which was arrived there from Tetuan, That two Rovers were fitting out there, and that it was said that those of Sallee, and others out of the different ports on the Barbary coast, were to join them in a fortnight, to cruize against those Christian powers with whom they are at war.

The French Stocks or Actions are rising, which is a plain demonstration they do not want to quarrel with their neighbours.

A private letter from Warsaw, dated the 28th ult. brings advice, that the Grand Field Marshal of the Crown, Count de Branicki, had declared for Count de Poniatowsky, to be elected King of Poland; the news of which was dispatched immediately to Berlin.

The ships now building at Chatham are the Victory of 116 guns, the London and Barfleur of 90 guns each, and the Raisonable of 74. The Victory is the largest ship that ever was built in England.

The officers belonging to the garrison at Gibraltar have received orders to join their respective regiments immediately.

Count de Modena French Minister at Hamburgh, is negotiating a new treaty of commerce between the Court of France and that city.

The last Letters from Warsaw assert, that the vanguard of the Russian troops were arrived within four Polish miles of that city.

We are assured, that the exterior works and fortifications at Toulon, which were undertaken and begun by the celebrated Vauban, are ordered to be finished with all expedition.

According to advices from Poland, we may collect from all circumstances, that the approaching election for the Crown of Poland will excite vast commotions.

May 22. It is said that several small ships of war will shortly be put into commission, to cruize in the Mediterranean.

May 24. They write from Genoa, that the Senate have come to a resolution of lending his Most Christian Majesty a large Sum of Money, for a year, without interest, provided he will immediately send over 4000 of his forces, to act in concert with their troops in Corsica, for the recovery of that island.

Some Gentlemen, eminent for their skill in the profession of Engineering, are now preparing to embark for the Grenadoes. They are to take an accurate survey of all our late acquired islands in the West-Indies, with the most convenient places to erect fortifications, which are with all expedition to be put in a proper state of defence.

Extract of a letter from Havre, May 7.

The Bricolle and the Coulisse, King's Frigates, will soon be fit for sailing, and two others are immediately to be put on the stocks, and finished with all expedition. The naval stores in this port have lately been surveyed, a large quantity of new ones contracted for, and every article arranged in as much order as if we were this summer to have a new war."

They write from Dresden of the 3d instant, that Prince Charles of Saxony, Duke of Courland's declaring himself a candidate for the Crown of Poland, was no longer a secret there, but was talked of publickly; he is to be suported by the Courts of Vienna and Versailles: They add, that the last letters from Warsaw brought advice, that Count Poniatowsky, of all the Piasts, had the strongest party, having the great Field Marshal of the Crown in his interest.

May 26. It is said the French are greatly alarmed at Lord Clive's going to the East-Indies, as it may probably be the means of disconcerting their schemes in that part of the world.

A Letter from Warsaw, dated the 6th inst. the day before the general Diet was to assemble, takes notice, that the concourse of people there was extremely great, and increasing daily; and that the nuncios or members from their respective palatinates, a great number of the Nobility, some of whom have fortified their palaces, together with a large body of troops of several parties, have taken up that city, suburbs, and its neighbourhood; on which account the inhabitants were in the greatest consternation imaginable.

May 29. Letters from Warsaw dated the 10th instant say, that the sessions of the Diet went on with great Tranquility. The troops of the Republick, and those of the Nobility, who were not of the Poniatowski party, are encamped facing the Russians, having only the river Vistula between them; and arms have been ordered for them out of the Arsenal. They add, that the inhabitants of that city continue much intimidated lest the election would turn out double, which may occasion a great effusion of blood, as there are four parties, besides foreigners, talked of as competitors.

June 2. The Diet of Warsaw has divested the Count de Branicki of his command to the Crown army, and given it to Prince Czartorinsky. After many long and brisk debates, this resolution was carried by a majority of 31 votes against six in the Senate, and of 104 against three in the Chamber of Nuncios. It is said that General Branicki, being a man of an arbitrary and ambitious temper, had formed a very dangerous party, which now will have little or no effect.

June 5. According to the last advices from Bastia, the rebels have been repulsed with loss in three different assaults on the post of Brando, situated about three leagues from that city. The supply of flour and grain lately sent from Genoa to Bastia was so small, that the people and the garrison were still kept at very short allowance.

Extract of a Letter from Hamburgh, May 15.

"All our accounts from Warsaw shew, that the true state of affairs there has been, hitherto, in a great measure concealed from all but a very few persons, who are more immediately concerned in the secret transactions of the Primate's cabinet, and will probably be concealed until the day of election. Dissimulation and caballing never ran so high as on the present occasion, and it is even said, with confidence, that strong parties are forming secretly in favour of a Prince, who scarcely appears in the character of a candidate. It has been affirmed in several papers, that Count Branicki, the grand General of the Crown, has declared himself in favour of Count Poniatowski; but this wants confirmation. That Nobleman, indeed, has taken several steps that seemed to discover a good understanding with the illustrious candidate now mentioned; but it is now said, that these steps have been only designed to amuse the agents of Berlin, and principally the armies of Russia, to throw them into a state of security, and put them off their guard. Count Branicki's motions are said to be directed by an intriguing Princess, whose consort, would willingly exchange a ducal Crown (which with respect to him is become merely titular) for a Royal one; and it is alledged, that the Courts of France and Vienna negotiate underhand, either for that Prince or for one of his house. It is remarkable, that these Courts, so far from declaring themselves in favour of a Piaste or native of Poland, have declared, on the contrary, that they look upon the Republick as absolutely free to choose their King without any limitation or restriction whatsoever, that by the laws and constitutions of Poland, no candidate is excluded, which the Republick may think proper to elect, and that all exclusions and limitations, made previously to the election, are inconsistent with the liberty and independency of the Republick. Besides, all considerations of a political kind unite to incline the Court of Vienna, at least, to the house of Saxony. The Courts of Russia and Berlin seem to suspect the secret negotiations here hinted at, since they have sent new instructions to their Ministers, to declare that they will look upon the election of a foreign Prince, with the highest disapprobation. This declaration has been made already to the Primate, who thereupon has charged some of the principal Senators to confer with the Grand General of the Crown, upon the occasion. In the mean time we learn, that all was in motion when the post left Warsaw the 7th instant. The Primate had ordered all the merchants of that city to keep their shops shut during the Diet of convocation, from an apprehension of the tumults that are known to attend the meeting of that assembly. Prince Czartorinsky had sent 800 men to the Palatine of Russia, Grand Marshal of the Tribunal of Kaptur. The army of the Crown was at the gates, and two separate bodies of Russians, commanded by the Generals Daskow and Chomotau, and consisting of Dragoons, Cuirassiers, Engineers and Cossacks, were encamped under the walls, and covered with strong retrenchments to secure them against any sudden attack. On the 7th the Diet was opened, and in the morning permission was given the Nuncios to choose a new Marshal in the place of Count Malakowsky; the sabres were drawn upon this occasion, but, after some violent debates, Prince Adam Czartorinsky, General of Podolia, and Knight of the Russian order of St. Andrew, was declared duly elected. This is supposed to be a favourable beginning for Count Poniatowsky."

BOSTON, July 30.

The Surveyor General has appointed William Jenkins, and Thomas Oldfield, Esqrs. of his Majesty's Ship Maidstone, and William Roberts, Esq; of his Majesty's Ship Romney, to be Officers of the Customs, to seize prohibited and uncustomed Goods, in North-America.

We hear from Rocky-Hill, in Connecticut, that a Negroe Fellow belonging to Mr. Brandykee, having been offended, took a Knife, with a Flint, and ran up to the Garret, where was a Half Barrel of Powder open, and struck Fire therein, which blew the Negroe and the Roof of the House, into the Air, and tore him to Pieces. A Man in the House saw him strike Fire once, which did not catch, and saved himself by running down Stairs just before the Explosion.

NEWPORT, July 30.

We hear from the Vineyard, that one Deborah Lewis, of that Place, about 32 Years of Age, who, till a few Days since, constantly appeared in the female Dress, and was always supposed to be one of the Sex, suddenly threw off that Garb, and assumed the Habit of a Man; and, sufficiently to demonstrate the Reality of this last Appearance, is on the Point of marrying a Widow Woman.

NEW-YORK, August 6.

His Majesty has been pleased to appoint the following Gentlemen on the Staff of North-America. The Hon. Richard Maitland, Deputy Adjutant General. The Hon. William Harvey, Thomas Moncrieff, Esq; and Philip Skene, Esq; Majors of Brigade.

We hear Monsieur de Bourlemaque, Governor of Guadaloupe, died in that Island, and that he is much lamented by the Inhabitants. He distinguished himself as a General Officer in Canada.

The 29th ult. in the Evening, Capt. Hunt, arrived here from Turks Island, in 12 Days: He says the French have erected there two Monuments of 80 Feet high, one of which is on the Grand Key, and the other on the Sandy Key; they are built entirely of Stone, and the Materials were brought from Old-France: The 64 Gun Ship, Brig and Xebeck, after leaving a few People to keep Possession of their Works went to Cape-Francois, and from thence were to proceed for Cape-Nichola, in order to erect some strong Fortifications on the Mold; after which they gave out they were to return with Settlers for Turks Island, and that they were fully determined, in case of another War, to cut off all Supplies from the Island of Jamaica.

PHILADELPHIA, August 9.

From Carlisle we have the following melancholy Intelligence, viz. That on Sunday, the Twenty-second ult. two or three Boys dians were seen near Fort Loudoun: That on the Wednesday following, as a Woman, named Cunningham, big with Child, was going from her own House to one Justice M'Dowell's, about two Miles below Loudoun, she was met with by the Savages, who murdered, scalped, and otherwise most horridly abused her, ripping her Belly open, and taking out the Child, which they left lying beside her: That another Woman, named Jamieson, was missing, supposed to be carried off: That on the Twenty-sixth of July, in the Forenoon, the Enemy came upon a School-house, on Conecocheague Creek, about Twelve or Fifteen Miles from Fort Loudoun, in the very Heart of the Settlement, where they killed and scalped the Master, one Brown, and Nine of his Scholars: That there were four more belonging to the School, who, it is thought, were made Prisoners, as they had not been heard of: That this bloody Massacre was first discovered by a Man passing by, who, hearing no Noise in the School, went in, and saw the Master lying scalped, with his Bible under his Arm: That one of the Scholars was then alive (but died soon after) who told him, there were four Indians, who were not seen till they entered the House: That two of the Children then murdered, belonged to an unhappy Man, who had four others carried off by the Savages last War: That several small Parties of the Enemy were said to be seen in that Settlement: And that a Stroke struck so far in the settled Part of the Country, it was feared, would occasion many of the Inhabitants to leave their Places.

We have likewise Advice from Carlisle, that one Ensign Smith (a brave young Man, and who had been Prisoner some Years among the Indians) went out, with seven Men, as a scalping Party: That they travelled Seventy Miles below Fort Pitt, till they came to a Place called Crow's Town, on the Ohio, which they found abandoned, and the Houses burnt: That the Houses on Beaver Creek were likewise deserted, but not destroyed: And that they found a few Tracks, but did not see an Indian but one, during their fatiguing March, watching a working Party at Fort Pitt, who they tried to come up with, but could not.

To the FREEHOLDERS, and others, ELECTORS for the Borough and County of CHESTER.

GENTLEMEN,

I CORDIALLY Thank you for the Honour you did me the laſt Year, in voting me on the Return for Sheriff; and as I intend to ſtand a Candidate for the ſaid Office at the next Election, I requeſt the Favour of your Votes and Intereſt, which, with your former Kindneſſes, ſhall be acknowledged, and, with Gratitude, remembered by, GENTLEMEN. † 7 W.

Your obliged Friend, and humble Servant,

Ridley, Auguſt 13, 1764. PHILIP FORD.

This is to give NOTICE,

THAT the Subſcriber, who many Years kept School in Strawberry Alley, has removed to the Houſe where Mr. Hazard lived in Letitia Court, where he teaches Reading grammatically, the various Hands in Writing, Vulgar and Decimal Arithmetick; and as by a long and tedious Illneſs, his School is greatly reduced, he will eſteem it as a particular Favour of thoſe who are pleaſed to favour him with their Children, and they may depend upon his Care and Diligence in teaching and bringing them forward in their Learning. ROBERT COE. ‡

N. B. I aſk no Entrance Money. A Night School will be kept in the Seaſon as uſual, and ſhall begin the 5th of September next.

THE Owners of POINT-NO-POINT MEADOWS, are deſired to meet at the Houſe of Iſrael Jacobs, the Sign of the White Horſe, in Elbow Lane, on Monday, the 20th of Auguſt, at 6 o'Clock in the Evening.

Bucks County, Auguſt 13, 1764.

BY Virtue of a Writ to me directed, will be expoſed to public Sale, on the 1ſt Day of September next, at the Houſe of George Dunn, Inn-keeper in Newtown, at two o'Clock in the Afternoon, George Clift's Right to a Meſſuage, Plantation, and Tract of Land, ſituate in Lower Makefield Townſhip, bounded by Land of Joſeph Harvey, Benjamin Harvey, and others, late the Property of George Clift, and taken in Execution by

* JOHN GREGG, Sheriff.

Whoever takes up the ſaid Servant, and ſecures him, ſo that his Maſter may have him again, ſhall have Forty Shillings Reward, and reaſonable Charges, paid by WILLIAM OGBORN. †

By the Philadelphia Packet, Captain BUDDEN, from London, we have the following Advices, viz.

HAGUE, May 17.

SOME letters have been received here which advise, that a rebellion is broke out in the canton of Lucerne, in Switzerland, the principal of the Catholick cantons; that the cantons of Switz and Underwalden are full of disturbances, and that the Regency of Berne has been sollicited to send troops into those three cantons.

Petersburgh, May 11. The last dispatches from Warsaw occasioned a grand council to be held in the presence of the Empress. The affairs of Poland are becoming very serious. The Grand General of the Crown, and those united to him, are taking such measures to oppose the opposite party, as will probably oblige the Empress to send a new corps of troops towards Poland, to support that already there, which perhaps in certain cases may not be found sufficient.

From the Vistula, May 20. The resolution of appointing a Grand-Regimentary, and the steps in conformity thereto taken by Prince Augustus-Alexander Czartorinski, are so far from having made the desired impression on the Count de Branicki and his party, that they have given new strength to their association, and more closely cemented the ties which united them. They regard this step, against which several Senators and Nuncios have protested, as contrary to the fundamental laws of the Republic; and consequently the order of Prince Czartorinski, in quality of Regimentary, as not obligatory on the officers of the army; the greatest part of whom have renewed their oath to the Great-General, and engaged not to abandon him whilst they have a drop of blood left in their veins, as he acts for the liberty of their country. The Count de Branicki, assured of their sentiments, and foreseeing what is meditating from the deputation sent him from the Prince Primate, has taken his measures, and is so well posted, that it will not be an easy matter to force him. Six squadrons of his hussars, one of which is under the command of the intrepid General Mokranowski, and another under M. de Zamose, have just been detached from his center, but we do not know for what purpose.

Cracow, May 20. When our Prince Bishop presented to the Grod of Warsaw his protest against the holding of the Dyet, they refused to receive it; so that he has been obliged to get it inscribed in the registers of another tribunal.

Genoa, May 12. The Malcontents of Corsica daily make some new progress: They block up our garrisons, and cut off their provisions: They have lately mastered the tower of Paludella, and thus we have but two Places left in the whole island. In the mean time the Algerine Corsairs infest our coasts, and have already taken several of our vessels.

Aix, in Provence, May 14. The regiment of Rouergue infantry, consisting of two battalions, passed through this city a few days ago; one of the battalions is going to Soliers, and the other to Hyeres. The regiment of Perigord arrived yesterday, and is to go to Monaco; that of Tournaisis will arrive here the 31st instant, and is destined for Antibes. We are assured that several other regiments will come hither, but their destination is not mentioned. It is also said that France furnishes the Genoese with these troops, upon condition that they shall keep on foot, so long as this war may last, a body of 10,000 men in their pay, to serve in conjunction with the French troops.

Naples, May 15. We are at present so well provided here with Corn, that orders have been sent to several parts, to stop buying up any more, as there had been given unlimited commissions; though in some of the provinces the want of bread is still very great.

Ratisbon, May 28. Some regiments of the troops of Wirtemberg, we are told, are going to be taken into the pay of Prussia. It is also said, that there are great bickerings between the Duke of Wirtemberg and his subjects, and that the latter seem inclined to put themselves under the protection of another Prince of the Empire, till these disputes can be adjusted.

Venice, May 25. To-morrow we expect here the Duke of York, under the title of Earl of Ulster. Mr. John Murray, the British Resident here, is gone to meet his Royal Highness on the confines of this Republic.

Hague, June 7. According to letters from Vienna, that court is assembling an army of observation in Hungary, both to prevent the Tartars from committing disorders in their march towards Poland, and to keep an eye over the events which the discords among the Poles may produce.

Warsaw, May 15. The Grand General of the Crown, and those of his party, imagined they should greatly perplex us, by suddenly leaving this city at the opening of the Dyet; but they now begin to be sensible of their mistake: Every thing goes on here in the best order, and quite to the liking of good patriots, and of the powers that mean to do us good.

As to the entrance of three companies of Russian troops in this city, about which the Grand General has made so much noise, such complaints are to be looked upon as a mere pretext; those Companies being certainly too weak to put any constraint on the deliberations of the Dyet, and the Russian Ambassadors have brought them into the town only for their own safety; a precaution so much the more necessary, as at the last election of a King, their hotel was plundered, and the house of the court of Vienna's Ministers blocked up. There is the greatest unanimity between the Russian Ambassadors and the patriotic Grandees, and by all appearances we shall have a quiet election, in spite of those who wish the contrary.

Some people here, and some at other courts, have laid great stress on a declaration of the Othman Porte, about the approaching election, and have promised themselves mountains from it; but it does not appear to have made any strong impression on the well meaning part of the Republic, as they know in what sense to take such a declaration.

LONDON.

June 11. The parliament, which stands prorogued to Thursday, the 21st of this inst. June, is further prorogued to Thursday, the 16th day of August next.

It is reported some more ships will soon be put into commission, to be stationed at Newfoundland, for the protection of the fishery.

The Empress of Russia has issued an ordinance against Usurers.

Letters from Warsaw, of the 24th past, assert, that the Embassador from the Cham of Tartary was then still with the Grand General of the Crown; his retinue consists of 150 persons. Count Poniatowsky, it is said, has the majority of votes for the Polish throne; he has traced his illustrious family for upwards of 600 years back; his mother is of the House of Czartorinsky.

The election day of a King of Poland is appointed for the 20th of August next.

They write from France, that four vessels having been lately bought up in the port of Brest, loaded chiefly with ammunition and warlike stores, by a person who afterwards appeared to be an Agent from the Malcontents of Corsica, who had also engaged several foreign seamen at high wages, an order was dispatched from court to stop them, but arrived two days after the four ships had put to sea, on which a frigate of 30 guns was sent out in quest of them, but it was thought as they were all clean ships, and apparently designed for war, it would be difficult to overtake them.

As soon as his Excellency Governor Johnston arrives at Pensacola, a thorough survey is to be taken, how far several plans lately brought over for the erection of towns, forts, and other places convenient for trade and security, agrees with the truth; after which the inhabitants, assisted by the military, are to set about compleating such works as may be found more immediately necessary for the above purposes.

A great many bags of different sorts of seeds, the growth of England and foreign parts, have been shipped aboard the Grampus store ship for Pensacola; in order to ascertain how far the culture of these vegetables will correspond with the climate of Florida.

The master of a very eminent boarding-school near London has, this week, discharged all the French, and other foreigners, employed in the education of youth under his care; at the same time having declared his resolution to employ none but his own countrymen for the future.---An example we could heartily wish to see followed by the rest of his brethren.

Friday a cause came on, in the Court of Common Pleas, Westminster Hall, before Lord Chief Justice Pratt, wherein Mr. Brackstone, of Covent-Garden, was Plaintiff, and one of those young Gentlemen, styled Bucks, Defendant, for assaulting Mr. Brackstone in his own shop; when, after two or three evidences were examined, the Defendant, by his council, offered to ask pardon in the open court, and pay costs: It was then asked Mr. Brackstone, if that would be making him satisfaction.---But as the outrage was so great, and attended with bad consequences to the Plaintiff's wife, Mr. Brackstone told the court, that he came there as an Englishman, and was desirous it might be made appear, that our laws were made to protect the innocent, and punish the guilty; and that he chearfully submitted his cause to the Verdict of his 12 worthy Countrymen, the Jury. Accordingly after the charge was given by the Judge, the Jury (which was special) withdrew for about ten minutes, and brought in a Verdict of 200 l. damages, with costs.

They write from Hamburgh of the 1st Instant, that by Letters from Poland, they had an Account, that the Empress of Russia had ordered her Forces, which were on the Frontiers, amounting to 40,000 Men, to march into Poland, in order to join those Troops, that are in the Neighbourhood of Warsaw, to support them, in case of a Rupture, they being too weak.

It is remarkable that Count Branicki, who so strenuously opposes the Elevation of the Count Poniatowski to the Crown, is married to Count Poniatowski's second Sister. They are both of them Noblemen of great Courage, Eloquence, Fortune and Abilities; and Poniatowski, whose House has flourished upwards of 600 Years in Poland, besides a most liberal Education, is said likewise to have travelled much. His eldest Brother is Great Chamberlain of the Crown, and his Father was distinguished for the Part he acted in the Wars of Charles the Twelfth of Sweden, by whom he was much esteemed.

June 12. It is said that some difficulties have lately arisen with respect to the ransom money to be paid for taking the Manillas.

Translation of the Duke de Choiseul's Letter to M. de Vaudreuil, concerning the Pension settled on him.

SIR,

"The King having caused a particular account of the affairs of Canada to be laid before him, for an enquiry into which you have been confined in the Bastile; his Majesty has with pleasure found, that your conduct in the administration entrusted to you, has been clear of all reproach: On my acquainting his Majesty that your disinterestedness and probity had brought you into circumstances that required some relief; he has been pleased to grant you, as a mark of his satisfaction for your services, a pension of 6 thousand livres on the revenues of the colonies, exclusive of another of the like sum before granted to you, as usually belonging to the Grand Cross of the Order of St. Lewis, with which his Majesty was pleased to decorate you. I hereto annex the Brevet for the pension which you are to enjoy out of the funds of the colonies, and which you will receive by yearly payments, to begin from the first day of January last. It is with pleasure that I have contributed to procure you this recompence from his Majesty.

I have the honour to be most perfectly, &c.

The Duke de Choiseul.

June 13. On the 6th of June Inst. arrived in Hamoaze, the rich Galeon Santissima Trinidad, from the East-Indies, commanded by Lieut. Mainwairing Wilding, Esq; which sailed from Madrass the 25th of September, 1763, having on board 120 English Seamen and Officers, with 50 French Soldiers, Prisoners of War, belonging to the East-India Company, who mutinied on board the Ship in Madrass Road. She is the largest and richest Ship brought to England, and brought home under Jury Masts. In the Latitude of 6 S. his Majesty's Ships Grafton and Lenox left them, where, at the Cape of Good Hope, they joined, and arriving in a very distressed Condition, were fitted out, and sailed the 15th of February, 1764, under their Convoy to England. After a tedious Passage, 200 Leagues to the Westward of the Lizard, they again left the Prize, being both in great Distress. The above Ship was loaded at Madrass with the Collection of Governor Pigott's Wild Beasts and Curiosities, most of which died in the Passage, being so long, and the Ship so very laboursome.

They write from Magdebourg, that the King of Prussia has sent several of his Generals into Prussian Pomerania, the New Marche, and Westphalia, in order to review the Regiments that are assembled there. His Majesty himself is expected in Silesia, for the same Purpose, about the latter End of the Summer.

Letters from Warsaw of the 16th assert, that a smart Skirmish had happened between the Russian Troops under the General Prince Dashkow, and the Russian Minister Prince Repnin, and the Polish Forces, under the Orders of the Castallan of Cracow, Count Branicki, in which several were killed, wounded and taken Prisoners; after which the Polish Troops marched from Kasenize, 12 Polish Miles from that Capital, towards Lublin, where they expect to be joined by more Troops of the Saxon Party.

Letters from Warsaw of the 21st of May observe, that though the Commanders of the Russian Forces shew themselves ready to act as soon as Prince Czartorinsky, Great-Regimentary of the Crown, shall authorise them to do so; yet the Ambassadors of France and Vienna seem to look on with a Kind of Indifference, and have not as yet made any formal Declaration relative to the present critical State of the Republic.

We are told from Paris, that his Most Christian Majesty, in Return for the Hotel d'Evreux, which was bequeathed him by Madame de Pompadour, has presented the Marquis de Marigny, her Brother and principal Heir, with the Hotel de Belle Isle, and 500,000 Livres, by way of Equivalent.

The City of Naples having some Time since sent over an Order here for the Purchase of 200,000 Tomoli of Corn, and being at present sufficiently provided, we are told in Letters from thence of the 15th Inst. that a Messenger has been dispatched by the Board of Abundance there, to countermand it.

It is reported that his Majesty, on his Birth Day, was most graciously pleased to order the Lords of the Admiralty to confirm the Commissions of Sea Officers who acted as Captains in the late War, as Vacancies should happen by the Death of Captains at home. It must give great Joy to those Lieutenants who had the Misfortune to want Friends, that their King has thus engaged himself on their Behalf.

The Right Hon. the Speaker, who has of late been much disordered with an irregular Gout, is going to the Spa, for the Recovery of his Health.

BOSTON, August 6.

Capt. Smith, who arrived here a few Days ago from Liverpool, informs, that off Cape Clear, on the South West Coast of Ireland, he spoke with a Vessel bound from N. Carolina to the Isle of Man, who told him that a few Days before, they took up the Crew of a Ship belonging to Mr. Gould of that Place, that had foundered at Sea; but as the wind blew very hard he could not understand the Master's Name nor where she was bound---Capt. Baker lately sailed from hence in a Ship for Bristol, belonging to Mr. Robert Gould; and Capt. Cullam, in another Ship, owned by Mr. John Gould, it is said was on her Passage from the West-Indies to London; so that it is uncertain which of them is the unfortunate Vessel mentioned above.

NEWPORT, August 6.

The General Assembly of this Colony at their last Session, taking into Consideration the unmerited Distresses this Continent is likely to labour under, from the late Act of Parliament, respecting Trade, and the proposed Stamp Duty, if it should take Effect, have appointed a Committee, to join with any Committee or Committees, that shall be appointed by any of his Majesty's Colonies, in such Measures as they shall think most proper and effectual for the obtaining a Repeal of the said Act, or, at least, for procuring the Duties to be lessened: Also to prevent the levying a Stamp Duty in the Colonies: And, generally, for the Prevention of all such Duties, Taxes, or Impositions upon the Colonists, as are inconsistent with their Rights, Liberties, and Privileges as British Subjects.

NEW-YORK, August 13.

Yesterday Se'enight the Brig Dispatch, Capt. Gifford, arrived here in 29 Days from Dominico.---The following are the Particulars of the Affair relating to Messieurs Forsey's Brig of New-London, on the Coast of Africa, viz. On the 19th of June came into St. Domingo, the Boat and Crew that belonged to the said Brig, Capt Gould, late Master, who gave this Account: That on the 13th Day of May, as they were weighing Anchor at Senegal, bound to Goree, and having on board 43 Slaves, they suddenly rose and killed Captain Gould, and two of his Men, on the Quarter-Deck: That on the Remainder of the Crew's running aft, thinking to secure the Arm Chest, the Negroes fled below, where being instantly confined, the Vessel came off the Coast, designed for the West-Indies, under the command of George Taggot, who then commenced Master, the Mate having been turned out by Capt. Gould, soon after they left New-London. That the Negroes rose a second Time, at Sea, and killed the Carpenter, when the Whitemen were obliged to fire, killing eight Slaves downright, then doubly barricadoed the Rest. That they afterwards put into St. Thomas's, where Taggot was encouraged by a Spaniard to go down to Porto-Rico to sell the Negroes, and he set sail directly; but on his Arrival the Spaniard put the Trick on him, by first going on board with a Number, under Pretence of Trade, seizing the Vessel, and carrying the Crew into his Boat, with Intent to imprison them on Shore: That on their Way thither the Englishmen ran off with the Boat down to Mona, where they landed the Spaniard who gave the Encouragement; from thence they went to St. Domingo, and some of them afterwards proceeded to Jamaica to give Information; but the Brig and Cargo, we are told, are confiscated by the Tenor of Treaties.

A Sloop, Campbell Master, of Jamaica, bound to the Grenades with King's Stores, having sprung a Leak on her Passage, and not being able to beat up, fell to Leeward, and designed for Jamaica, but was drove on Shore, on the South Side of Hispaniola, where the Vessel and Cargo were lost, and ten Persons drowned.

PHILADELPHIA, August 16.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated June 5, 1764

"Every thing here is quiet at present, and likely to continue so. The Names of Pitt and Wilkes are heard no more. Nor is there the least Prospect of any great Bustle, till another French War breaks out. Lord B---'s Power is most certainly as great as ever; and perhaps the Royal Confidence cannot easily be better placed; I mean with an honester Man.------The State of Politics in this Country, from the Nature of our Constitution, can never be permanent; and as one Half of our great Men are happily a Check to the Ambition and sinister Views of the other Half, it must follow, that as we are not likely to continue in the right Way for any Length of Time, so neither can we persist long in a wrong Direction. At present the Ministry have a Breathing Time, and are now employed, with very little Interruption, in dispatching the new Governors to their several Stations; attending to the Repairs of our Navy; and making such Dispositions, in regard to the Security and Improvement of our extensive Settlements, as may discourage our Enemies from making Encroachments upon them, or to enable them to repel Force by Force if they do. Lord Clive is now set out for the East-Indies, with full and ample Powers to settle all our important Concerns in that Quarter of the World. He carries with him a greater Force of Europeans than ever that Country saw; enough indeed, but that we have lately learnt the Natives the Art of War to make an intire Conquest of the Mogul's Empire."

With Captain Budden came Passengers, the Honourable WILLIAM ALLEN, Esq; Chief Justice of this Province and his Family.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freshest Advices, Foreign and Domestic.

To the PRINTERS of the PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

GENTLEMEN,

BY inserting the Inclosed in your next Paper, you will much oblige several of your Customers, who are desirous it should be published.

THE Remarks, in one of your late Papers, on the Prevalence of Vice and Immorality, encouraged many of your Readers to hope for your Correspondent's further Thoughts on that Subject, with such Hints as might conduce to a Suppression of those growing Evils.---

Were the salutary Laws of this Province duly executed, they could not fail of producing the desired Effect; and although many, who either will not, or dare not attempt a Reformation, that they may excuse themselves, throw the Blame on the Magistrates, whose Duty they say it is,---yet they must be extremely ignorant, if they can suppose, that without the Countenance and Assistance of the more sober Inhabitants, an effectual Reformation of Manners can be brought about; and he who either from a Fear of offending, or from whatever other Cause, neglects, or refuses to assist, in enforcing an exact Obedience to those Laws, in which the Honour of God, the Good of Society, or the Reputation of the Community, are concerned, deserves not their Protection, or the Esteem of good Men.

Many Instances there are in which the Magistrates have not been duly supported, and when they have undertaken to do their Duty, in discouraging Vice, been ridiculed as Persons fond of an Office, and forward to shew their Authority: How discouraging, as well as ungrateful, such Conduct is, must appear to every judicious Person.

Let those then who are not ashamed of Virtue and Religion, publickly bear their Testimony against every Species of Vice, by making Examples, without Distinction, of every Offender, who in Despite of good Breeding, the Laws of his Country, and of his God, dare openly violate those sacred Obligations. The Gentleman who has already appeared as an Advocate for Virtue, is hereby encouraged to erect her Standard, by reducing to a regular Form, the Plan at which he hinted, and he will find, to his Satisfaction, that there are many ready to enlist under her Banner, who will, with the greatest Chearfulness, contribute, by their Practice and Example, to the Restoration of her Empire in this Province.

This will most effectually contribute to the Re-establishment of Harmony among contending Neighbours, and be a happy Means of drawing down the Smiles of Heaven on a distracted People.

ARITHMETIC, Vulgar and Decimal, with all the Contractions therein; the Extraction of the Roots; Geometry and Trigonometry; plain, right angled and oblique Mensuration of Solids and Superficies, in the correctest Manner; Surveying in the best and easiest Method; Navigation instrumentally, arithmetically, and by artificial Numbers, adapted to the meanest Capacity; Dialling, Gauging, and many other useful Calculations, carefully taught, by G. M'CAIN, Assistant to Mr. DOVE, at his Academy, in Germantown. ¶

BY Virtue of a Writ to me directed, will be exposed to public Sale, at the London Coffee-House, on Thursday, the 30th of this instant August, at 6 o' Clock in the Afternoon, a Lot of Ground, lying on the South Side of Shippen-street, in Southwark, containing in Front, on said Street, 20 Feet, and in Depth 100 Feet, with a two Story Brick Dwelling-house erected thereon; subject to a Groundrent of Two Pistoles per Annum; bounded by Lands of John Stag, Samuel Rhoads, and Thomas Crofton; late the Property of William Hall, and taken in Execution by JOSEPH REDMAN, Sheriff.

YOUR Majeſty's moſt gracious letter to his general aſſembly of the church of Scotland, was received with that reſpect and gratitude, which is due by us to our Gracious Sovereign, for ſo high an honour conferred upon us.

The expreſſions of your Majeſty's confidence in the loyalty and affection of this church to your royal perſon and government, fill us with the higheſt pleaſure. We truſt that the members of this church ſhall never prove unworthy of this confidence; it muſt be our delight, as it is our duty, to love and obey a King, under whoſe wiſe and truly paternal adminiſtration our liberties are ſecure, unleſs they ſhall be endangered by licentiouſneſs in the ſubjects themſelves, a ſpirit which we heartily deteſt, as aſſuming the falſe ſemblance of liberty, that it may moſt effectually undermine it.---Nothing, except regard to God and our own conſciences, can animate us more in exerting ourſelves to the utmoſt, according to the duty of our offices, in promoting virtue, piety, and religion, than the notice which your Majeſty condeſcends to take of our endeavours to ſerve this glorious cauſe.----It is with thankfulneſs, and with the moſt unlimited confidence, that we receive this repeated declaration of your Majeſty's fixed purpoſe and reſolution to ſupport the Preſbyterian church of Scotland, as by law eſtabliſhed, in the full poſſeſſion and enjoyment of all its rights and privileges.

Your Majeſty's countenancing our preſent meeting with your royal authority, we thankfully acknowledge as a new teſtimony of your goodneſs, which gives us the ſincereſt joy. We truſt that we ſhall always deſerve the continuance of this favour, by aiming ſincerely in all meetings to promote the hapineſs of your Majeſty's government, and the true intereſt of the church of which we are members; Objects which, we are ſenſible, merit our moſt fixed and conſtant attention, and which we well know to be inſeparably connected.

To prevent the growth of Popery, a ſuperſtition alike contrary to the word of God, and to the free and happy conſtitution of your Majeſty's kingdoms; to ſuppreſs vice and immorality, which our holy religion teaches us to abhor; and to recommend virtue to mankind, are ends which we are ſtrictly bound to purſue with unwearied diligence. It is in the ſpirit of that wiſdom which cometh from above, that your Majeſty points out theſe to us as the proper objects of true zeal. By the aſſiſtance of God, to theſe our zeal ſhall be confined. And as your Majeſty's approbation of the prudence, wiſdom, and moderation of former aſſemblies, convinces us with how favourable an eye your Majeſty is pleaſed to look on the judicatures of this Church, it muſt animate us with the moſt ardent deſire to emulate thoſe who have gone before us in the exerciſe of qualities which have procured them ſo honourable a teſtimony from your Majeſty. Permit us to aſſure your Majeſty, that it ſhall be our ſincere endeavour, by maintaining charity, brotherly love and unanimity through all the proceedings of this aſſembly, to render ourſelves not unworthy of the like Royal Approbation, when it ſhall be brought to a concluſion.

We have ſuch an high ſenſe of the undiſturbed tranquility and freedom which we enjoy in common with all your Majeſty's ſubjects, that it ſhall be our endeavour to confirm the people committed to our charge in the principles of loyalty, and to infuſe into their minds the knowledge and love of that moſt Holy Religion which promotes their intereſts in the future life, by inculcating all the virtues which can render them dutiful and uſeful ſubjects and friends to our happy conſtitution, and which moſt effectually promote their true happineſs in the preſent life.

We moſt thankfully acknowledge your Majeſty's Royal Donation for promoting religion and virtue in the leſs civilized parts of this nation, as a new proof of your Majeſty's concern for the beſt intereſts of your ſubjects; and we ſhall be careful to apply it in ſuch a manner, that it may moſt effectually contribute to the accompliſhment of your Majeſty's pious intentions.

The approved zeal of the Earl of Glaſgow in your Majeſty's ſervice, his ſtrict integrity, his great abilities for the diſcharge of ſo high a truſt, his exemplary regard to religion, his warm affection to this church, and his many amiable qualities and chriſtian virtues, make your Majeſtys choice of him to repreſent your Royal Perſon in this Aſſembly, moſt acceptable to this whole Church.

That the King of Heaven and Earth may long preſerve your Majeſty, the Guardian of Liberty, the pattern of Piety and Virtue, to your People; that he may render your adminiſtration proſperous; that he may pour down his bleſſings on your Royal Conſort, our gracious Queen; that the divine favour may ever attend his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, and the whole of your Royal Family; that your deſcendants may to lateſt ages reign over a free and loyal People; that after a long and happy life on Earth, you may enjoy the glorious crown of immortality, are and ever ſhall be the earneſt prayers of, May it pleaſe your Majeſty, your Majeſty's moſt faithful, moſt obedient, and moſt loyal ſubjects, The Miniſters and Elders met in this National Aſſembly of the Church of Scotland.

Signed in our name, in our preſence, and at our appointment, by Edinburgh, May 26, 1764. ALEX. GERARD, Moderator.

LONDON.

May 19. They write from Portſmouth, that an additional number of carpenters, riggers, &c. are now employed in his Majeſty's arſenals and yards, to forward the repairs of ſeveral men of war and naval ſtores, which are ordered to be got ready with the utmoſt expedition. This together with the number of ſhips already in commiſſion, and other beneficial regulations, has made the commercial affairs of Portſmouth wear a better appearance than is uſually to be found in times of peace.

May 27. Before the unfortunate Mr Sampſon received Judgment, he addreſſed the Court as follows:

"My Lords,

"After having voluntarily pleaded guilty, I humbly wait to receive Sentence of the Law. Great as my Crime is, his Majeſty's Mercy is ſtill greater; and if in my paſt Conduct any Circumſtances have happily happened, by which I have (under God) been the Means of ſaving the Lives of any of his Majeſty's Subjects (and with Truth I can ſay that I have ſaved above 200 from periſhing) I hope thoſe Circumſtances will, in ſome Meaſure, recommend me, a truly ſincere Penitent, to his Royal Mercy; and if it ſhall be his gracious pleaſure to ſave that forfeited Life, which before had been the Means of ſaving many others, the Remainder of it ſhall be ſpent in a Manner becoming the Situation, of one ſenſible of that ineſtimable Bleſſing. My Lords, I applied to the Court laſt Seſſions to put off my Trial, in order that I might be able to lay many favourable Circumſtances before this Court, that might incline your Lordſhips to Mercy; but, being adviſed that thoſe Circumſtances were more proper to be laid before his Royal Majeſty, I confeſſed that Guilt, which in Conſcience I could not deny. Your Lordſhips are men, you feel as men, and, perhaps, may now feel Compaſſion for an unhappy Youth truly penitent, and not yet twenty Years of Age. Permit me, my Lords, to add, that if your Lordſhips, who are now proceeding according to ſtrict Law, ſhall be pleaſed to render me any compaſſionate Services, that Obligation to myſelf and my worthy Relations (now involved in my Sufferings, but not in my Guilt) will never be forgotten. But my Lords, if after all, the bitter Cup of Juſtice is not be removed from me, I humbly ſubmit to thy Will, O God, in whom I truſt."

June 5. On Sunday Night, at near Eleven o'Clock, one of his Majeſtys Meſſengers, diſpatched from the Secretary of State's Office, came to Newgate, and brought a Reſpite, during the King's Pleaſure, for Michael Sampſon, who on his own Confeſſion was convicted of Forgery, and received Sentence of Death, at the laſt Seſſion at the Old Bailey, and was one included in the Death Warrant, to ſuffer with the other ſeven Malefactors Tomorrow. This joyful News was immediately reported to the unfortunate Youth, (who was then at his Devotions) and as ſoon as he could recover himſelf from the Extacy of Joy for his Deliverance, he glorified God, bleſſed his moſt Gracious Majeſty, and prayed for his worthy, humane, and generous Friends.

 This Perſon was the principal Means of ſaving the Crews of two Veſſels, the one bound to Ireland, where he went to ſettle Buſineſs; the other to England on his Return, when the Commander of each had given up all Hopes of ſaving Ship, Cargoe, or Paſſengers.

By Captain Bowen, arrived at Marblehead in Seven Weeks from London, we have the following Advices, viz.

LONDON, June 14.

Extract of a Letter from Iſlamabad, in the Eaſt-Indies, December, 2, 1763.

COSSIM Aly, about the 6th of October laſt, committed the moſt barbarous maſſacre at Patna, on our people, to the number of about 58, chiefly military officers and covenanted ſervants, who were unfortunately his priſoners, dragging them out one after another, and butchering them all in one day, in the moſt cruel and unheard of manner. Unſatiated with this he continued the maſſacre to every private European in his poſſeſſion, and even of his own ſubjects; he left not a man alive of either power or ſubſtance in this country. As ſoon as the melancholy tidings reached Calcutta, a cloud of ſorrow overſpread the whole ſettlement for the loſs of ſo many valuable men, a general faſt was obſerved, and a mourning of 14 days.

"The army continued their march to Patna, which they took by ſtorm, November 6, after a very obſtinate defence, in which the enemy had 1000 men killed. About 30 Europeans and 150 Seapoys were killed or wounded on our ſide. The Nabob Coſſim Aly is retired into the Soubah of Oude's dominions, with the ſmall remains of his army, and a treaſure more than three millions in ſpecie, beſides jewels and other valuable effects, which will ſtill make him formidable.

"Among thoſe who ſuffered by the maſſacre, were Meſſieurs Ellis, chief of Patna; Hay, of the council of Calcutta; Luſhington, ſecond of Patna; gentlemen of great merit, who had formerly ſurvived the Black Hole, after that accompanied Lord Clive in his ſucceſſes, now fell by the hands of a common executioner. Much about the ſame time were put to death, Seat Motebray and his brother, two bankers, eſteemed the richeſt ſubjects in the world.

"Mr. Fullerton, ſurgeon to the Patna factory, was the only perſon that eſcaped the maſſacre."

June 18. Yeſterday his Majeſty was pleaſed to appoint his Royal Highneſs Prince William Henry to the command of the Coldſtream regiment, in the room of Lord Tyrawley, who has reſigned.

It is ſaid a Diſtringas has been iſſued out againſt a great perſonage, and three of the King's meſſengers, at the ſuit of Mr. Beardmore's clerk, who was ſeveral days confined on account of the Monitor.

Wedneſday his Majeſty in council was pleaſed to order 25 grants, to different perſons, of a great number of acres of land in the country of Florida, in America.

Yeſterday the purſer of the Oſterly, Vincent, arrived at the India-houſe, with the news of that ſhip's being arrived in the Downs, from Bengal; ſhe has brought advice, that every thing was re-ſettled there on its former footing, and peace and tranquility reſtored ſince the taking of Mongear and Patna, from Coſſim Aly, in the former of which places 2000 of the enemy ſurrendered at diſcretion.

It is ſaid 80 non-commiſſioned officers and ſoldiers, ſuffered at Patna, beſides the gentlemen of the Engliſh factory there.

The diet is now ſitting at Warſaw, for the choice of a King, where the diſputes run high; when the affair of religion came upon the carpet, ſabres were drawn, becauſe there ſeemed to be a deſign to favour the proteſtants. It has therefore been reſolved that the perſon to be choſen King ought to be, both by father and mother, a deſcendant of a Poliſh houſe, and of the Roman Catholic religion.

Some advices from Warſaw remark, that there has been ſeveral rencounters between the armies of the contending parties for the crown.

The diet have fixed the 20th day of Auguſt for the election of a King of Poland.

Advices from Warſaw ſay, that the crown army have elected Count Branicki their general, to be King of Poland, and alledge as a reaſon for it, that it was done in order to be before hand with the diet.

By a gentleman juſt arrived from Paris, we learn, that Mr. Wilkes was in pretty good health and ſpirits, though he at times felt pains from his wound; that he lived very elegant, kept a grand equipage, and viſited, and was viſited by people of the firſt rank.

A correſpondent in Bedfordſhire acquaints us, that the Earl of Bute is becoming very popular, and much beloved in that country, where he lately purchaſed a very fine eſtate; his Lordſhip keeps fifty ſervants, lives in the higheſt magnificence, keeps open houſe, has ſent a general invitation to all the reſident freeholders, and returns (with his lady) all viſits, down to thoſe gentlemen who poſſeſs no more than 100l. per annum.

Madam Pompadour, among a variety of other legacies, has bequeathed, it is ſaid, a diamond of immenſe value to the celebrated Voltaire, as a grateful teſtimony of the ſatisfaction which ſhe has frequently received from his writings, and in hopes, it is generally imagined, that her name may be perpetuated to poſterity, by the pen of ſo diſtinguiſhed an Author.

It is ſaid that a common ſeaman's ſhare of the rich Spaniſh prize, the Santiſſima Trinidad, will amount to 600l.

Yeſterday was brought to the bank from Portſmouth, in two waggons, guarded by a party of ſailors, about three tons of money, among which was a conſiderable quantity of gold, brought home in the Deptford man of war from the Havannah. The above ſhip brings advice, that the Engliſh affairs in that iſland will not be ſo ſoon finiſhed as was expected.

CHARLES-TOWN, in South-Carolina, Aug. 1.

From the Creek country we learn, that at a meeting of the headmen of the upper-towns about three weeks ago, the Gun Merchant, and others, on being informed that one of their countrymen was in goal here for murdering a white man, declared their readineſs to acquieſce in every ſtep taken in the affair agreeable to treaty; and that if the fact was proved according to law, they had no objection to his being put to death.

Several parties of the Cherokees that went out againſt the enemy Indians are returned, and have brought in both ſcalps and priſoners from the Shawaneſe, Twightwees, &c.

The good effects of the act of parliament paſſed laſt ſeſſion, giving liberty to ſend rice to the ſouthward, begin already to appear, his Honour the Governor having granted licences to three veſſels that will carry about 1500 barrels, to be loaded with that commodity for foreign ſettlements.

BOSTON, Auguſt 13.

Extract of a Letter from Quebec, May 30.

"We have Chief Juſtice Gregory, with ſome Attornies at Law, &c. lately arrived here, but it is thought that the civil Government will not take place till ſome time in September, at which Time, by the Treaty of Peace, all the Inhabitants that do not go to France muſt become Britiſh Subjects; but the Number which we ſhall loſe on the occaſion will be very inconſiderable, as we have by every ſhip from England, French reduced Officers of the colony Troops, and thoſe that have connections in this Country, coming over to take up their Quarters and ſettle, who are generally very much diſſatisfied with their Reception and Treatment in France.----Every Thing remains quiet in the Upper Country, though it is ſaid by ſome late Letters that the Savages are making Preparations to open the Campaign. The 300 Canadian Volunteers which were raiſed and went from hence, are arrived ſome time paſt at Oſwego. The ſeveral Nations of Indians about this Place have taken up the War-Hatchet in our Favour. Sixty Warriors are already gone to join Sir William Johnſon, and about 60 more are preparing to ſet out."

NEW-YORK, Auguſt 20.

Extract of a Letter from Niagara, dated July 15, 1764.

"Laſt Sunday Afternoon the Snow Johnſon arrived here from Ontario, with Sir William on board; who ſince his Arrival has been much buſied in holding Councils with the Indians, of whom there are now at this Place above 1000, of different Nations, ſome to join and proceed with the Army; ſome with Peltry, expecting Trade to be opened; and others to treat of Peace. This Morning 105 Men of the Folles Avoines, arrived here, and are now in Council in the Fort. The Senecas have been expected for ſeveral Days paſt, but are not yet come in. We are informed that there are about 900 of them and the Delawares aſſembled together. It is whiſpered about, that if they don't come in, in a few Days, the Army will march againſt them. The Army in the Boats was 8 Days in the Paſſage from Fort Ontario hither, having met with ſome violent Storms, in which four of the largeſt Boats were caſt away and wrecked to Pieces; the Mens Lives were all ſaved, and moſt of the Proviſions and Baggage. About two-thirds of the Army, with their Boats, &c. are got over the Carrying Place, and the Remainder will be over in two or three Days. We have now four Veſſels on Lake Erie; the laſt of which ſet out for Detroit Yeſterday. A few days ago, a Soldier was fired at by an Indian on the Carrying-Place; the Ball ſtruck the Haverſack on his Back, the things therein prevented its entering his Body; he returned the Fire, and made his Eſcape to one of the little Poſts. If Sir William's indefatigable Diligence and Influence over the Indians does not prevent it, we'll be at Loggerheads with them in a few Days."

Extract of a Letter from Niagara Auguſt 2.

"We are here, attending the Congreſs Day after Day, with about 1300 Indians of different Nations, ſome of whom have come 600 Miles. They have concluded a peace with Sir William Johnſon, except the Delawares and Shawaneſe, whom we have, near a Month, waited for, as they are to bring their Priſoners, in order to be delivered up. We expect to ſet off for Detroit in a few days, having every thing ready for that purpoſe."

Another Account of Indian Affairs.

Our Advices from Above, relating to Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON, his Expedition to Niagara, are of ſeveral dates, equally of good Authority: They affirm, That there are upwards of 2000 Indians of different Tribes attending the Treaty, ſome to join and proceed with the Army, ſome with Peltry expecting Trade to be opened, and others to treat of Peace, ſome of whom it is ſaid came the Diſtance of 600 Miles: That Sir WILLIAM, having made Peace with all the Nations of Indians that were there, on the 6th of Auguſt left Niagara, and on the 7th returned ſafe to FORT-ONTARIO. That by this Peace the Delawares are to give up two of their principal People, for the Performance of which three Seneca Chiefs are now Hoſtages at Fort Ontario. And,---That Col. Bradſtreet, with his Army, left Niagara the 6th of Auguſt, on his Way to Detroit.

Tueſday laſt the Ship Roebuck, Capt. Smith, arrived here from London, in whom came Paſſenger, Andrew Elliot, Eſq; (Brother to the brave Capt. Elliot, who took Monſieur Thurot) lately appointed Collector of his Majeſty's Cuſtoms in this Port.

PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 23

The Carolina, Captain Friend; and King of Pruſſia, Captain Robinſon, both from this Port, are arrived in London.

The Content, from Virginia for London, was at Plymouth the First of June. And the Succeſs, Peterſon, from the ſame Place, is arrived at Dover.

Mr. Hugh Munro, of the Iſland of St. George, one of the Weſtern Iſlands, acquaints his Correſpondent here, in a Letter of the 30th of June, that there was brought from the North Side of that Iſland a Brig of about 120 Tons, deſerted by her Crew, and by what had appeared of the Cargo, it conſiſted of Boards, a few Hogſhead Staves, ſome ſmall Beams and Shingles upon her Deck, and in the Hold, and ſuppoſed to be bound to the Leward Iſlands; her Fore-maſt ſprung; her Main-maſt cut about 5 Feet above the Board; the Rudder torn out of the Irons.---The Veſſel has a Mermaid Head, and a new Anchor, never ſtocked (the only one found on board) marked T D 94, Weight 7. 0. 14. her two Pumps, fore and aft, in a Line cloſe by the Main maſt; and that it appeared, from many Circumſtances, that the people had been taken out at Sea by another Veſſel.---Mr. Munro offers to act in Behalf of the Owners, provided they tranſmit him a Power of Attorney, with ſufficient Proofs of their Property.

There are also to be sold at the same Time, by Samuel Sealy, about 20 Lots, where there are already several Lots bought for a Town, and very pleasantly situated for the same. Such Persons as incline to purchase any of the Lots, or the above Tracts (the whole being unimproved Land, well timbered) may see a Draught of the same on the 8th and 21st of September. The Vendue to be held at the House of the Subscriber, § JOHN SCHRACK.

N. B. The uncultivated Land is in Limerick Township, three Miles from Manatawney Road.

TO be sold, a compleat new Grist-Mill, and Saw-Mill, situate at Coryell's Ferry, 15 Miles from Trenton, up the River Delaware, that has the Advantage of a constant Stream of Water: These Mills have 12 Feet Head and Fall of Water. The Grist-Mill can grind 100 Bushels a Day, and has all the Conveniencies for Manufacturing of Flour; the Mill-House is a new Stone Building, about 30 Feet by 50; a Boat may discharge her Loading directly into the Mill House. The Situation of this Mill is very convenient for purchasing of Wheat, as large Quantities are brought down the Delaware, from Minisink, &c. and must pass by this Mill. There is also Plenty of Wheat to be bought in the Neighbourhood (as it is in a plentiful Wheat Country.) Flour can be transported from the Mill, and delivered at Philadelphia, at One Shilling and Six pence a Cask.---The Saw-Mill will cut a Thousand Feet a Day, and Logs may be had Plenty, at reasonable Rates. These Mills have belonging to them, a Farm containing 16 Acres of Land, with a tolerable good Dwelling-House on it, and a good Well at the Door; also a Brew-House, Stable, &c. Any Person inclining to purchase the above described Mills, &c. may have them at a moderate Price, by applying to Philip Atkinson, near the Premises; Thomas Atkinson, at Amwell; or James M'Evers, at New-York; on paying down one Third of the Purchase Money, the Remainder may be made in easy Payments, on giving Security, if required.

N. B. In Case any Person should prefer hiring the above Mills, &c. to purchasing of them, they may be had at a moderate Rent, with 400 Pounds in Cash, free of Interest, for the Conveniency of purchasing Wheat. ¶

LONDON, May 24.

Extract of a Letter from Glasgow.

THere is already great appearance that an extenfive fifhery will be carried on this fummer upon our coafts; two cod-fmacks, lately fent to make an experiment upon the weftern bank of St. Kilda, have made fo favourable a report, befides returning home full loaded, that abundance of veffels are now fitting out, and feveral families are preparing to remove to that ifland, at the inftance of fome gentlemen, who have ordered proper ftages to be erected, and every thing neceffary to cure the cod, in order to render this valuable fifhery of the utmoft advantage."

May 26. Among the many Prifoners now in a certain goal eaftward, there is a poor Taylor for two guineas and a half (which was half what he owed to the world when imprifoned) but rather than allow him his liberty to get bread for himfelf, wife, and family, his hard-hearted creditor has already paid him 9l. in groats for his maintenance. Quere, Has his creditor any love or compaffion for his fellow-creature, or to his own intereft? Or is not pride and revenge his predominant paffion?

May 29. Friday a lady dropt a gold repeating watch at the lower end of Saville Row, which was immediately picked up by a poor baſket-woman, who followed the lady, and delivered her the watch, and was generoufly rewarded with a fhilling; but a well-dreffed gentleman, who faw the whole tranfaction, remonftrated fo genteelly on the extreme honefty and poverty of the finder, and the little proportion there was between the gratuity and value of the watch, that the lady pulled out her purfe, and gave her four guineas.

Extract from a Letter from Dublin to a Friend in London, May 19, 1764.

" Lord and Lady Northumberland have juft left this kingdom, to the univerfal regret of all ranks and degrees of people. I never faw any thing like it: I happened to mix among the populace at the water-fide, and the Prayers, ejaculations, and fervent wifhes poured forth for their fafe voyage, and long continuance in the government, had fuch an effect on me, --- it was too much for a mind of the leaft fenfibility. I quitted the crowd, retired home, and watched the wind 'till it was dark.

" In the memory of us now alive, or of our fathers, there have been but four Vice-roys of Ireland, diftinguifhed with honour among us. The Duke of Ormond won the affections of the people by liberality; the Duke of Dorfet gained the confidence of men by a fteady adherence to his word; and Lord Chefterfield merited the eſteem of this whole kingdom, by his equal and impartial conduct towards all parties, whether of Court or Country, Proteftant or Papift.

" Lord Northumberland has equalled the two latter, has exceeded the firft, and to their valuable characteriſtics, has added an infinitely higher one of his own, namely, a moft extenfive charity. He was not content alone with being the beft Vicegerent of the beft of Kings, but he would be the Almoner alfo of the King of Kings." R. G

June 4. An eminent tradefman is now fetting a quantity of jewels for a Lady of Quality to appear in this day, his Majefty's birth day, faid to be worth one hundred and fifty thoufand pounds.

June 5. Yefterday being the anniverfary of his Majefty's birthday, who entered the 27th year of his age, the morning was ufhered in with the ringing of bells, at noon the Park and Tower guns were fired, and their Majefties received the compliments of the Nobility, Foreign Miniſters, &c. on the fame occafion, at their palace at St. James's; the dreffes were vaſtly elegant.

At night feveral fine pieces of fire-works were play'd off on Tower-Hill. The Manfion-houſe was finely illuminated, as were many other buildings in this city.

June 7. Lady Northumberland being under a neceffity of leaving town on Monday, on account of the death of Mrs. Smithſon, her Mother-in-law, the grand illuminations deſigned as a compliment to his Majefty's birth day, were poſtponed till her Ladyſhip's return, which was on Tuefday evening; when every thing was conducted with a decorum and magnificence peculiar to the Counteſs of Northumberland: 1500 perſons of diſtinction were invited, and the garden was decorated with 10,000 lamps, 400 of which being fixed to the balluſtrades deſcending by the ſteps, had a moſt beautiful effect. Two bands of muſick were provided, one in the houſe (where the great gallery was illuminated to an aſtoniſhing degree of ſplendor) and the other in the garden, which anſwered alternately, and upon Lord Granby's entrance ſtruck up, SEE THE CONQ'RING HERO COMES; a mark of reſpect to the extraordinary merit of that illuſtrious Officer, which was inſtantly returned by a general huzza from the whole company. The company departed at half an hour after twelve, and at ſeven o'clock yeſterday morning her Ladyſhip ſet out for Sion Houſe.

June 14. A gentleman has favoured us with the following account of the occurrences of Bengal: You were informed, in my laſt, of the progreſs of our arms, under Major Adams and Major Carnac, againſt the Nabob Coſſim Ally Khan, as far as ſtorming the Nabob's intrenchments at Oudah Nullah, from whence he retreated towards Patna, and was followed by our army, who met with no reſiſtance but from the garriſon of Mongheer, who ſoon ſurrendered, and the army continued their march: But before they reached Patna, they learnt the unhappy news of the maſſacre of all the priſoners, who had fallen into the Nabob's hands.

This cruel butchery was executed on the 5th of October, under the direction of a native of Alſatia (turned Muſſelman) in the ſervice of the Nabob, named Samero, none of the country people being found capable of perpetrating a deed of ſo much horror. This man, being furniſhed with the Nabob's orders, firſt made all the ſervants withdraw, and then ſent for Mr. Ellis, the chief of Patna, Mr. Luſhington, and Mr. Hay, into a room, where the moment Mr. Ellis entered, he received a ſtroke with the Sabre, and fell dead: Mr. Luſhington ruſhed on the man who gave the ſtroke, wreſted his ſword from him, killed him, and wounded another, but was ſoon overcome by numbers, who immediately preſſed into the room, where the reſt of the gentlemen were, to the number of 25, put them all to the ſword, and flung their bodies into a well. The reſt of the priſoners, who were in irons, were put to death the next day, no one eſcaping but Mr. Fullerton, ſurgeon to the Patna factory, who had been of ſervice to many of the Nabob's officers, and was on that account ſpared.

The following is a liſt of all the Gentlemen who have periſhed by the Orders of this Monſter of Cruelty.

On the Deputation, and returning under Sanction of a Paſſport from the Nabob, the 3d of July, 1763:

Mr. Amyatt, ſecond of Calcutta; Mr. Woolaſton, in the Company's Service. Lieutenant Cooper, of the company's troops.

Killed at Rungporte, where they were employed in the Month of July.

Meſſieurs Andrews and Buſlain.

Killed at Patna, October 5.

Meſſieurs Ellis, chief of Patna; Hay, of the council of Calcutta. Luſhington, ſecond of Patna, who had formerly ſurvived the Black Hole, after that accompanied Lord Clive in his Succeſſes, now fell by the hands of a common executioner. Amphlett, a Relation of Lord Clive. Hutchinſon, in the company's ſervice. Doctor Crooke. Lieutenant Jones. Lieutenant Gordon, of the Cavalry. Hewit, Third of Patna. Smith, Fourth ditto, Collings, Aſſiſtant. Chambers, Second of Caſſamb. Factory. Lyon, brother of Lord Strathmore, Third of Caſſamb. Factory. Oakes, Fourth of Caſſamb. Factory. Bennet, Aſſiſtant. Eyſon, Bound, Creeke, Lake, young Gentlemen, ſervants of the Company. Dr. Hain, in priſon at Mongheer, Dr. Harley, living under the Dutch protection. Enſigns Stewart and Spooner. Captains Kynch, Jacker, Turner, died in priſon at Mongheer, Tabby, Wilſon, Summers. Lieuts. Sir William Hope, Roach, Jones, Hillard, Pickering, Craft, Blewet, Armſtrong, M'Kay, Guntree, M'Claud, Hamilton, Parry, Bruce. Enſigns Crawford, Blewit, Perry.

October 6, the following, at Patna.

Dr. Anderſon, Dr. Peter Campbell. Meſſ. Tolliot, Johnſon, Harris, Harney, Howell, jun. Sores of the Company, and eighty non-commiſſioned Officers and Soldiers.

June. 16. This day's Gazette contains a letter from Major Adams, of his taking Mongheer; the enemy, amounting to about 2000 men, have ſurrendered at diſcretion; and that he had found in the place large magazines, well ſtocked with ammunition and grain. And that he had alſo taken Patna by ſtorm, with an inconſiderable loſs, conſidering the occaſion; but Captains Irwin, Champion, Hibbert, Gallien, and Lieutenant Scollard, were wounded. Capt. Irwin is ſince dead. The enemy made an obſtinate reſiſtance after the entering of the breach, which coſt them about 1500 men. At the beginning of the ſiege the enemy marched out a large body of Seapoys; and advancing under the cover of mud walls and hollow-ways, took poſſeſſion of and blew up our magazine, with a great number of their own people.----- Lieutenants Goddard and Swinton, with a great number of our Seapoys, were wounded in this affair, and a few killed; but the enemy's loſs was much greater.---The Major adds, that Coſſim Ali-Cawn was retired, with all his treaſure and effects, to the confines of the province, where he is now waiting for admittance into Sujah Doulah's country. Sujah Doulah is Vizer to the Mogul, who will not permit him to croſs the river with his army. An Aſylum for himſelf and family only is offered. A few days (ſays the Major) will, I believe, determine his fate, and put a period to the campaign.---The Major's letter alſo confirms the accounts which have been given of the maſſacre of the Engliſh gentlemen by Coſſim Ali-Cawn.

June 18. They write from Scotland, that the clergy of that kingdom are not a little alarmed at the large number of methodiſtical books which have lately been diſperſed there; near 1500 of them were diſperſed the 15th paſt, among a multitude of people, who were aſſembled to hear one of that perſuaſion preach in a field near Edinburgh.

The Rev. Mr. ----------, a follower of Mr. WHITEFIELD's, but ſome years ago ſuſpected of Antinomian principles, came laſt week to town, ſtrongly recommended by a noble Lady, and offered his ſervice at Moorfields and Tottenham Court Road; but the worthy truſtees of theſe tabernacles rejected his good ſervice, until the Reverend Gentleman abroad ſhould return, and be ſatisfied of his orthodox principles.

There is at Vauxhall a fine new picture of Lord Clive and General Amherſt in action.

They talk at Paris of forming a camp of 6000 men near Campiegne, for inſtructing the young Princes of the Blood in the art of war.

Extract of a letter from Plymouth.

" In conſequence of the new plan adopted by the Board of Admiralty, for laying the whole navy of England under a thorough inſpection, our workmen in the dock yards are buſy in exploring the plank and timber of all the men of war laid up ſince the peace; and in order to remove every thing which may be the leaſt conducive to rottenefs, the inſide lining is opened in divers places, and every part well waſhed from the upper deck to the keel, and afterwards the whole ſhip well fumigated with burning tar: This not only removes that diſagreeable vapour ſo frequent in old ſhips, but alſo prevents the timbers from rotting, and is a ſpecial antidote for the ſcurvy. We are employed in fitting out 5 frigates, which are ſaid to be deſtined for Newfoundland."

Several foreign papers in their articles of news from London, take notice of a recapitulation made by one of our modern hiſtorians, who enumerates all our conqueſts during the laſt war. But, ſay theſe foreign Gazetteers very ſhrewdly, the Hiſtorian has forgotten to take notice, that theſe vaſt exploits coſt the Engliſh above ſix millions of money. [To be ſure it is ſome comfort to the vanquiſhed, to make their enemies buy their conqueſts dearly: at the ſame time we may add, that theſe foreign News-writers have likewiſe forgotten to obſerve, that the French expended very near the ſame ſum, only to be---BEATEN.]

By advice from Paris, we are aſſured that the government are come to a reſolution to countenance a general toleration of all religions.---[Thus while religious and political perſecutions ſpread their terrors through Britain, our rivals are ſhaking off the fetters of bigotry, and breaking looſe from the oppreſſion of civil bondage. Will nothing open our eyes, and induce us to put an end to party animoſities and diſſenſions.]

BOSTON, Auguſt 13.

For the Benefit of MANKIND.

On Wedneſday, the firſt of Auguſt inſtant, about 11 o'Clock in the Morning, one Mary Littlefield, the Daughter of Mr. Moſes and Mrs. Mary Littlefield, of the third Pariſh in the Town of Braintree, as ſhe was picking Whirtleberries was bitten by a Rattle-Snake, in the Foot of her left Leg, Inſide, between the Ancle Bone and the great Cord of the Heel. The principal Medicines that were adminiſtered to the Patient for 16 Hours after ſhe was bitten, was Sweet Oil and Rhubarb; but theſe did not ſeem to expel the Virus in the leaſt: The Patient continued ſwelling more and more, and every Time ſhe reſpired made a clucking kind of a Noiſe, which prognoſticated preſent Death. One Mr. Abel Puffer, of Stoughton, hearing of the Girl's Misfortune, went of his own Accord to ſee her, and made uſe of a certain Medicine, both internally and externally, that in about the Space of two Hours after the Adminiſtiation of THAT, the Virus was driven from the different Parts of the Body, into the Foot of that Leg which had been bitten, and it ſwelled to ſuch a prodigious Degree, that he was obliged to lance it in three different Places, in order that the virulent Matter might be diſcharged; and it continued conſtantly running out of theſe Orifices for 30 Hours, till the whole virulent Matter was diſcharged, and the Patient ſoon recovered to as good and ſound a State of Health as ever ſhe was favoured with.-----We the Subſcribers can ſafely atteſt to the above Relation, that it is true, and thought ourſelves in Duty bound to inform the Public of it, for the Good of Mankind in general, that there is a ſpeedy Cure to be obtained for all thoſe who happen to be bit by that venomous Serpent the Rattle Snake.

Braintree, Auguſt 14, 1764.

Auguſt 20. In the Antigua Gazette of the 4th of July, is the following intereſting Article of Intelligence, which plainly evinces the Deſigns of our Weſt-India Friends to ſubvert our Diſtillers in New-England, and to promote their own, which unleſs timely remonſtrated againſt in Parliament, will moſt aſſuredly take Place, viz.-----" That in a late Aſſembly of the Governor and Council of the Iſland of Jamaica, a Motion was made and approved, to prefer a Memorial to the Britiſh Parliament, ſetting forth, that in the preſent declining State of the Sugar-Iſlands, nothing could tend more effectually to reſtore the Weſt-India Trade from ruin, than putting a Stop to the farther Diſtillation of Rum in the Britiſh Colonies of North-America, commonly called New-England Rum; which, together with large Quantities imported from the French Iſlands, has ſo ſunk the Demand for that Produce, as to threaten a total Diſſolution to the whole Trade."

Extract of a Letter from Jamaica.

" I am very ſorry to tell you, that by the late Orders received here for ſwearing in all the Men of War to be Cuſtom Houſe Officers, and by a Seiſure or two made in Conſequence thereof, the Spaniards are ſo terrified, that they will not run the Riſk of bringing hither either Money or Mules to traffic with us; ſo that a Piſtole is now rarely to be met with; and, in a very ſhort Time, this Iſland, which always abounded with Spaniſh Coin, and remitted ſuch Quantities of it to England, will have no other Currency than Paper Money: The Spaniards will very ſoon be ſupplied with Linens, Woollens, Silks, Cutlery, &c. from the French and Dutch Territories, who will probably know how to ſet a true Value on this Branch of Trade, and take Care to keep it. We are quite at a Loſs to know what Harm Spaniſh Money ever did in England, or where is the Miſchief to our Mother Country, in ſupplying the Spaniards with the Manufactures of Great Britain.

NEWPORT, Auguſt 20.

It is with Pleaſure we hear ſome of the principal Merchants in Boſton have come into a Reſolution to curtail many Superfluities in Dreſs; and that upwards of fifty have already ſigned a certain Agreement for that Purpoſe. Lace, Ruffles, &c. are to be entirely laid aſide: No Engliſh Cloths to be purchaſed but at a fixed Price; the uſual Manner of expreſſing their Regard and Sorrow for a deceaſed Friend or Relative, by covering themſelves in Black, is alſo in the Liſt of Superfluities, and no Part thereof but the Crape in the Hat is retained; inſtead of which, a Piece of Crape is to be tied upon the Arm, after the Manner of the military Gentlemen.

NEW-YORK, Auguſt 27.

The Snow New-York, of this Port, Magee, Maſter, from South-Carolina, was loſt going into Liverpool, the 9th of June laſt; the Crew ſaved themſelves in their Boat, but the Veſſel and Cargo is entirely loſt.

Two Engliſh Men of War are gone from Jamaica for Turk's-Iſland, to deſtroy the Works lately erected there by the French.

Extract of a Letter from Fort Sloſſer, dated Auguſt 12, 1764.

" The Morning of the 8th Inſt. the Army went off from hence; and in the Evening arrived at Fort Erie, which is on the North Shore, about two Miles above the Rapids, at the Entrance of the Lake. The 9th they ſet out about 10 o'Clock, and proceeded along the North Shore about 6 Miles, where they remained all Night, waiting for the 17th Regiment, which was detained by having loſt ſome of their Boats in going up the Rapids. Early on the Morning of the 10th, they ſtood acroſs the Lake to the South Shore. I left Fort Erie the ſame Day at 10 o'Clock, ſince which Time have heard nothing from them; though we have Reaſon to think they are a conſiderable Way on their Journey, the Weather having been pretty favourable ſince they went off.

" The Schooners Victory and Boſton, ſailed from Fort Erie, for Detroit, the 9th, in the Night; the two others are expected in every Day. I purpoſe to proceed with them to Detroit, and hope to arrive there as ſoon as the Army."

PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 30.

On the 18th Inſtant two Men were taken up at Elizabeth-Town, and committed to Goal there, for paſſing a Number of Counterfeit TWENTY SHILLING BILLS of this Province. One of them goes by the Name of Harman Roſecrans, the other by that of John Hannah; they had paid for three Horſes in theſe Counterfeit Bills; are dated May 1, 1760; and were advertiſed in Numbers 1856, and 1857, of this Paper.

Extract of a Letter from Niagara, July 26.

" Proviſions are iſſued out this Day for 1717 Indians, and more daily coming in."

Extract of a Letter from Fort Ontario, Auguſt 7.

" I ſailed from Niagara Yeſterday, in Company with Sir William Johnſon, who has ſettled Matters with the different Tribes of Indians to his Satisfaction, tho' not a Man of the Delawares or Shawaneſe came near him; but he received a Letter from them, in which they told him, that as the other Nations had condeſcended to make Peace, they would likewiſe agree, out of Pity to their Brethren the Engliſh, and not from any Fear they were under from them, for in that Reſpect they deſpiſed them.----- There are between 3 and 400 Indians gone with Colonel Bradſtreet, who threaten theſe haughty People.-----The Letter from the Indians to Sir William, was wrote by Major Smallman, who is a Priſoner with them."

Carliſle, Auguſt 13. Laſt Friday the Troops marched from this Place, having with them a large Number of Waggons and Packhorſes, with Ammunition, Proviſion, &c.----An Indian was ſeen and fired at on Saturday, about ten or twelve Miles above Shippenſburgh, who, it is thought, was there as a Spy, watching the Road.----We have had no Miſchief done ſince that in July.---- The Woman ſuppoſed, ſome time ago, to be carried off by the Indians, was found murdered in a Thicket, a little Way from where they took her.----The Lad found alive in the School, and ſaid to be ſince dead, is, we are informed, yet alive, and in a likely Way to recover.

Auguſt 14. By a young Man from Conegocheague, we are juſt now informed, that Indians are ſeen in that Settlement almoſt every Day; and that on Friday laſt, two Men were purſued by four of them, near Juſtice M'Dowell's, and with great Difficulty eſcaped.

Auguſt 17. Some time laſt Week three Indians were ſeen in the upper Part of Marſh Creek, York County, when one Hugh Dinwiddie fired at, and wounded one of them, of which Wound, we hear, he has ſince been found dead.----A young Woman, Daughter of one James Dyſart, going home from Sermon at the Big Spring, laſt Sunday, about 10 or 12 Miles from hence, was met with, murdered, ſcalped, and left naked, by the Enemy.---- This has alarmed that Settlement, who were chiefly gone home to their Places, and will, we are afraid, make many again fly; eſpecially as there are ſo many Accounts of Indians being ſeen in ſmall Parties almoſt every Day, in one Part or other of the County.-----A Number of young Men from the upper Part of this County, are forming a Company, to go out as Volunteers with Colonel Bouquet; and another Company is expected to come from the Eaſt Side of the River.

Auguſt 18, The main Body of the Army left Loudoun about the Middle of this Week; the Train is to be there this Night.

Auguſt 22. A Fellow was taken near Shippenſburgh, ſuppoſed to be a French Spy, and committed to Goal.

Auguſt 23. The above mentioned Fellow was examined by Colonel Armſtrong, and ſome other Magiſtrates, and ſent, under a proper Guard, to Colonel Bouquet.

Had on, and took with him, an old blue German Serge Coat, a blue Shaloon Jacket, a Pair of brown Broadcloth Breeches, an Ozenbrigs Shirt, a Felt Hat, and a Pair of Thread Hose; but he may change his Name and Apparel. He also took with him about Six Pounds in Spanish Dollars, with which he will be able make a more passable Appearance, being a pretty artful Knave, tho' he sometimes puts on a foolish Face. Whoever apprehends the said Runaway, and brings him to the Subscriber, or secures him, so that his Master may have him again, shall have the above Reward, paid by EPHRAIM HOWARD.

Anne Arundel County, near Elkridge Landing, Maryland.

FIVE POUNDS REWARD.

RUN away from the Subscriber, on the first Day of July, an English Convict Servant Man, named James Groves, a middle sized Fellow, about 40 Years of Age, with short black Hair, dark Eyes, and dark Complexion, speaks bad English, and quick, was imported into Maryland last August, in the Ship Albion, John Coal, Master; had on, when he went away, a new coarse Felt Hat, blue Cloth Coat, a Check Shirt, old Ozenbrigs Trowsers, and Country made Shoes; his Beard, when at any Length, is remarkably grey. Whoever takes up and secures said Servant, and gives Notice thereof to the Subscriber, so that he may be had again, shall receive the above Reward, and reasonable Charges, if brought home, paid by THOMAS FOSTER.

N. B. The said Servant may attempt to pass for a free Man, as a Discharge is missing to Matthew Kelly, dated September 1761, signed by Cornelius Ragon. ¶ 5 W.

THE Assignees of Robert Lettis Hooper, jun. are now paying a Dividend of his Estate in their Hands; therefore all Persons having any Claim or Demand on said Estate, are desired speedily to bring in their respective Accounts, legally proved, and they may receive a due Proportion of their Debts, at Kearny and Gilbert's Store, in Water-street. Such as neglect so doing past the first of October next, will be excluded any Share of the Cash now in Hand, and must wait till the Assignees may be enabled to make a second Dividend.

And all Persons indebted to said Hooper, are hereby desired to take this last Notice, that unless they pay their respective Debts before the first of November next, the Assignees then purpose suing all Delinquents, without Distinction, which it is hoped may be prevented by Payment before that Date. GILBERT BARKLEY, EDMUND KEARNY, JOHN WIKOFF, THOMAS WALLACE.
